Council to agree on funding for alarms

MORE than 600 elderly and vulnerable people across Cannock Chase will have to pay for pendant alarms in their homes after council bosses slashed funding.

Around 2,000 residents currently get the alarms for free – but Staffordshire County Council is withdrawing funding in a cost-cutting measure.

Cannock Chase Council agreed to step in and fund a scaled-down version but said users would have to meet certain criteria to avoid paying for the alarms.

The authority has £117,000 to spend on providing alarms for 1,350 residents, meaning hundreds more will have to pay up to £86 a year to get one.

Option

The Full Council was meeting last night (Wednesday) to approve shelling out the money from April next year. The council will also pay £107,000 for the alarms up until next April.

Council leader George Adamson said: "We cannot afford to pick up the whole tab so this is the only option. We can only pay a proportion of the current cost."

The criteria to qualify for free usage includes being over the age of 70 or in receipt of a disability-related benefit.

Bands unite for Stephen

BANDS will join together to remember Stephen Sutton in a festival that last year raised more than £6,000 for the inspirational teenager.

Monday's event at the Drill Inn in Burntwood takes place from noon to 8pm and features tribute acts and Pollen, a young band with Stephen's former schoolmates Will Schmidt and Corey Furnival.

Other acts include Pink Floyd tribute Now and Then, TFI The 90s and Tyler John performing as Gary Barlow.

Tributes after death of young hockey player

Hockey player Jeevan Dhanda

TRIBUTES have been paid to a Cannock Hockey Club player who died after being found injured on rail tracks near Birmingham New Street station.

The club has opened up a book condolence following the death of 18-year-old student Jeevan Singh Dhanda. An area has been set aside for flowers to be laid at the club. His number 55 shirt will be retired.

It is believed his family were told he had secured three A grades in his A-Levels the day after his death. The Walsall teenager was a pupil at the town's Queen Mary's Grammar School.

It is thought he fell from a bridge at the station on August 7. He was rushed to Queen Elizabeth Hospital but died last week.

A second man, a 30 year-old from Birmingham who was also found injured after suffering injuries 'consistent with a fall from height, ' died on Monday.

In a statement his family said: "Jeevan was a loving son and brother and will be dearly missed by everyone who knew him.

"He was a pupil at Queen Mary's Grammar School, Walsall. He recently completed his education, securing three 'A' grades and was due to study economics at University of Leeds.

"Jeevan was an accomplished hockey player, playing for school, club and county.

"Jeevan was a beacon of love and happiness who bought joy to everyone who knew him – our lives will never be the same without him and we were privileged to have had him for a short 18 years."

A Cannock Hockey Club statement said: "Jeevan was a lifelong member of Cannock Men's Hockey Club and a very polite and intelligent young man.

"Notwithstanding his ability on a hockey field he is the sort of member who we, rightly, should be very proud of."

HOSPITAL VIEWS IGNORED – MP

AN MP has hit out at the consultation process over plans to move key hospital services from Wolverhampton to Cannock.

South Staffordshire MP Gavin Williamson said 40,000 people in his constituency had not been asked for their views.

Last week it was announced that more than 20,000 outpatient cases a year would move from New Cross Hospital to Cannock Chase. But while people living within the city boundaries of Wolverhampton are being consulted on the plans in a series of 'listening meetings', Mr Williamson said people in his constituency had been left out of the process.

New Cross chief executive David Loughton insists that people in and around Cannock had been widely contacted about the plans.

The proposal, which comes as a result of the imminent takeover of Cannock Chase Hospital by the Royal Wolverhampton NHS Trust, would see some treatments and non-emergency surgeries moved away from Wolverhampton.

Unfair

Mr Williamson said New Cross was the primary hospital for 40,000 of his constituents and it was unfair that they had been excluded. He has now written to Mr Loughton, urging him to carry out a thorough consultation in the area.

The MP said: "Both these hospitals serve South Staffordshire residents. It seems utterly nonsensical that South Staffordshire residents' views are not being sought.

"This step could seriously impact thousands of local people – some of whom may have attended New Cross Hospital their entire life – and we deserve to have our say."

By Mark Andrews

Under the proposals, routine surgeries and day treatment would be carried out in Cannock Chase Hospital.

Mr Williamson urged his constituents to express their views through the website www.wolverhamptonccg.nhs.uk or by e-mailing wolccg.wccg@nhs.net

Meanwhile, health bosses are blaming Stafford Hospital's uncertain future for a struggle to recruit staff. It comes as nearly a quarter of consultants jobs are currently vacant.

New figures show there are 117 consultant posts, with 26 of them vacant.

Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust blames reputation, competition and uncertainty about the future of services.

The number of nurses is also of concern, despite a recruitment drive which saw four staff taken on in May.

A further recruitment event will be held in September with the long-term aim of reducing the number of agency nurses the trust uses to cover staff shortages.

Top award for cricket club

A CRICKET club has been officially handed a top voluntary award. Hammerwich Cricket Club was presented with the Queen's Award For Voluntary Service – the equivalent of an MBE for individuals.

The award, which recognises the outstanding contribution made by the club's volunteers, was presented last weekend by Lord Lieutenant Mr Ian Dudson CBE, Her Majesty's representative for Staffordshire, at the club's Burntwood Road ground.

The club has seven teams and a thriving social membership, helped by a team of around 50 volunteers.

Chairman David Henn said: "It is a worthy recognition for all the volunteers, both past and present, which has made the club what it is today."

Eleven county organisations were recognised this year.

Incentive to reduce busy road pollution

BUSINESSES using one of Cannock's busiest routes could be given money for more environmentally friendly vehicles as part of a pollution crackdown.

Cannock Chase Council is looking at offering financial help for firms so they could buy lorries with reduced emissions to use at the Churchbridge/A5 interchange.

The route is used by thousands of drivers each day and an assessment of the air quality shows levels of nitrogen dioxide are regularly higher than average.

The council is now looking at an action plan to reduce pollution – but admits it will be difficult as so many vehicles use the congested road.

Commercial

As a high proportion of the pollution is caused by commercial vehicles, the council wants to encourage businesses to make their fleets more environmentally friendly.

Council leader George Adamson said: "The sheer amount of traffic and industry in the area has an effect on the air quality – it is better than 20 years ago but there is still a lot to be done.

"It is such a busy route that a certain amount of pollution is unavoidable but we can try to reduce it."

Acquittal on breach claim

AN ex-teacher convicted of a child sex offence has been found not guilty of breaching an order banning him from working with children.

Mark Gethin, formerly of Lawnswood Close, Cannock, denied seeking to gain employment from which he was barred by applying for Bury College. The prosecution at Stafford Crown Court offered no evidence.

The order was imposed in 2007 after Gethin, aged 48, was found guilty of grooming a 14-year-old girl.

Organisers of contest expect sell-out

ORGANISERS of the Ironman triathlon are expecting a sell-out when the online entry system goes live next week.

The event is expected to attract thousands of spectators and elite athletes from across the country as it is a qualifier for the world series.

Ironman 70.3 Staffordshire will include a 13.1 mile run from Shugborough Hall in Stafford, a 1.2 mile swim at Chasewater Country Park and a 56-mile bike ride through Lichfield, Burton and across Cannock Chase. Overall, the total miles covered add up to 70.3.

Online entries for the event will open on Tuesday, August 26 at 1pm for athletes who have pre-registered their interest in the event.

Pre-registered athletes will have 24 hours to secure a place on a first come, first served basis before general entries open at 1pm on August 27.

So far more than 7,500 people have registered an interest in signing up and managing director Kevin Steward believes there will be thousands more.

He said: "We have had an incredible response to the announcement that we are coming to Staffordshire and there is bound to be a great demand for places when entries go live.

"The venue of Shugborough and the amazing backdrop of Staffordshire offers the perfect setting in every aspect and I am confident next year's competition will swiftly prove a sell-out."

ID required to catch hospital shuttle bus

HOSPITAL patients would have to present identification and proof of appointment to catch a 40 minute shuttle bus ride for treatment under proposals by health chiefs.

Bosses have also refused to rule out friends and family having to pay for the trip.

More than 20,000 outpatient cases will move from New Cross Hospital to Cannock as part of a £30 million plan to relocate services.

Wolverhampton Clinical Commission Group will take over the running of Cannock Hospital later this year as Mid-Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust is dissolved.

As part of the plans free buses will run between the city's bus station and Cannock going via New Cross Hospital shuttling patients.

Gwen Nuttall, chief operating officer, said: "We are in discussions with transport providers and the idea at the moment is that the bus would go from Wolverhampton Bus Station to New Cross Hospital then there would be two stops in between before it goes to Cannock.

Journey

"The patient would have to show identification with confirmation of an appointment. We are told by the bus company it would be a 40 minute journey from the bus station to Cannock and around 32 minutes from New Cross."

She added: "We do have robust plans in place and we will be work hard with patients. We are not sure of the frequency of the buses and we have not determined if friends or family of patients would have to pay."

Facilities at Cannock, including operating theatres, are being upgraded as part of the project.

Resources have been stretched at New Cross, which has led to operations being cancelled.

Youngsters warned on drink perils

YOUNG people are being warned about the dangers of alcohol abuse.

Cannock Council bosses have launched a campaign addressing the problems that can come from heavy drinking.

They include getting into a fight, the effects on someone's appearance, getting home after a night out, sexual behaviour and the power of social media.

Councillor Mike Holder, crime and partnerships portfolio leader, said: "The campaign highlights the dangers of alcohol misuse in young people and the long-term effects it can have.

"I urge young people and parents to take note of this and seek help if necessary.

"Whilst licensing seems to be effective in preventing sales to young people, the majority of young people find it relatively easy to get hold of alcohol."

A survey conducted in schools revealed 79 per cent of young people found it easy to obtain alcohol.

County Councillor Robbie Marshall, cabinet member for health and wellbeing, said: "It is important for parents to have a conversation with their children about alcohol and drinking responsibility."

Campers stay determined

Chris and Ceri Watt and their daughter Amalie have set up camp at Stafford Hospital

A PROTEST group is continuing to camp out at Stafford Hospital.

Five new arrivals pitched up over the weekend – taking the total number of tents up to 50 – and campaigners from the Support Stafford Hospital group say the mood is still upbeat. The campers all have the shared aim of saving the much-loved but troubled hospital.

Leading campaigner Julian Porter said the campers were as determined as ever to stick it out and maintain a presence at the site until health bosses made a U-turn on certain decisions.

Chris Watt from Stafford arrived on Sunday with his pregnant wife Ceri and three-year-old daughter Amalie. Mr Watt, aged 36, said: "The campaigners are prepared to be here for as long as it takes.

"My wife is due to give birth in December. There were complications when she had Amalie. I wouldn't want her facing the prospect of going to Stoke if there were problems this time around."

Staff take on muddy run charity challenge

MORE than a dozen staff from a Rugeley manufacturer are preparing to take on a 10K sponsored obstacle run to raise money for Cancer Research UK.

Around 15 staff from GDM Heat Transfer are taking on the challenge on November 1.

The group will be taking part in the run, which will involve mud, trails and obstacles, at Stanford Hall, in Lutterworth, Leicestershire.

Marketing manager Lisa Finney said the group was hoping to raise as much as possible.

The 30-year-old said: "The general manager of the company has a close friend suffering from cancer. We wanted to raise some money for Cancer Research UK.

"It will involve a combination of three types of off-road running.

"We will be taking on different obstacles and will be going through lakes. It will be quite a challenge.

"This one is quite intense. A lot of the lads have been doing a lot of training."

She said the group had collected around £60 in donations so far and the company would be approaching its suppliers for support.

Sponsorship for Ironman

AN Ironman competitor who works in Cannock is hoping to turn to the sport professionally.

Dean Edwards took on the Ironman UK challenge with 2,000 athletes and has made it to the world championships in Hawaii in October.

The 26-year-old father of one, of Hilton Lane, Shareshill, placed 23rd overall and second in his age group and has now been sponsored by Wolverhampton firm Carreg.com.

He manages the family-run The Engraving Company.

Bird spotting

VISITORS to a beauty spot can get close to birds of prey next week.

Cannock Chase Country Park is inviting guests to see some of the creatures and learn facts about them in their natural habitat.

The event takes place on August 29 at 10.30am.

Gardening service is awarded cash grant

A GARDENING service that helps to prevent crime has been awarded £2,750.

Cherry Orchard Garden Services (COGS) has been given the grant for its ongoing maintenance of gardens for vulnerable people throughout Burntwood, Chasetown and Chase Terrace.

The money came from the People Power Fund, set up by Staffordshire Police and Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis.

COGS was set up in 2002. Volunteers tidy up gardens that are overgrown or untidy, which often means the homeowner is vulnerable and a target for burglars and other criminals.

Currently the service employs 15 gardeners who maintain between 120 and 150 gardens per week, as well as public gardens.

Mr Ellis is providing £500,000 in 2014/15 through the People Power Fund in the form of grants of between £100 and £3,000.

The next round of applications for People Power funding ends on September 14.

Brenda Tunstall, team leader at COGS, said the plan was to expand the service so more homes could be tidied up in future.

Hunt for top tradesmen

TRADESMEN of Cannock, put down your hammer, turn off your drill, as this year's Britain's Top Tradesman competition from Screwfix has launched in the West Midlands.

Screwfix, which has a store in Cannock, is looking for people who can prove their excellence. The winner will also get a £28,000 Toyota van with all the gadgets and livery needed.

The closing date for entries is September 14 at either Cannock store at On Line Business Centre, Walkmill Lane, Bridgtown, or at screwfix.com/btt

Musical madness

A MUSICAL will be staged at the Prince of Wales Centre in Cannock next month.

Our House – The Musical will be shown between September 4 and 6. It has music and lyrics by Madness. Shows are at 7.30pm and tickets cost £13. Call 01543 578762.

Hundreds sign to save pub from developers

HUNDREDS of people have signed a petition in a last ditch attempt to save a Cannock pub from closing.

Wolverhampton brewer Marston's has to sell the Pied Piper in Pye Green Road.

HB Village Developments want to knock it down and build 16 new flats, but admitted at a public consultation that it would consider alternative sites. The assisted living accommodation would cater for vulnerable young adults with learning difficulties.

At a heated meeting at Bevan Lee Community Centre, developers' spokesman Alistair Sheehan said: "I understand that an amenity will be lost, but the pub has not been well supported and is on the brewery's disposal list."

He said if they were made aware of alternative sites, they would be looked at.

Regulars have launched a campaign to try to prevent the pub from shutting and 300 people have added their names to the petition.

Campaigner Phil Dempster said: "This pub is the hub of the community, it has a number of sports teams, a bike club meets there and the pub has been very successful in staging fundraising events."

Homeowners in Old Fallow Road say the development would make it difficult for them to park outside their own homes.

Worries about loss of light, lack of privacy and security issues were raised and there are fears over emergency access.

Plans have been formally lodged with Cannock Chase Council and will go before a forthcoming planning control committee. Fears over bats have been allayed by the developers, who have said no survey is needed, while oak trees in the beer garden will be chopped down and new ones planted.

The Campaign for Real Ale has become involved in the fight and spokesman Don Taylor said: "We will support them in any way we can."

The protesters hope to meet with Marston's to discuss the plans and intend to organise another public meeting.

Bid to extend consent for temporary health centre

HEALTH chiefs are having to rush through extending planning consent on a temporary medical centre in Burntwood after the plug was pulled on a new facility.

Permission on Burntwood Health and Wellbeing Centre expires next month. The town had been set for a new medical facility but the project was axed with NHS England bosses citing a lack of funding.

By Laura Blyth

Burntwood North County Councillor Susan Woodward said: "Planning permission on the building ends in September.

"We face a bit of a rush to extend it so it can continue to operate for the people of Burntwood. We need to ensure the provision is there for everyone in the future."

Review

The temporary health centre is located on the grounds of Burntwood Leisure Centre in High Street which is owned by the Coal Industry Social Welfare Organisation (CISWO). An application will have to be made to Lichfield District Council to extend the temporary permission.

NHS England has launched an urgent review into health provision in Burntwood.

The new health centre was due to be built in the grounds of the leisure centre.

Work on the complex should have got under way last year after plans were agreed in 2011. It would have served 22,000 patients. But the town was left in limbo over the planned GP and nursing complex following the restructure of the NHS.

Bosses from NHS England sent an email to the district council to tell them that the plans had been axed due to the current difficult financial situation.

Campaigners at the time described the announcement as a 'terrible blow.'

The Burntwood Leisure Centre site had been earmarked for a new centre after the closure of St Matthews and Hammerwich hospitals.

Plans were recently submitted for 374 new homes in Burntwood. A formal application for the new development on land off the Burntwood Bypass has been submitted to Lichfield District Council.

Campaigners argued Burntwood needed a new health centre to cater for the possible number of homes.

Art on show in garden

A KEEN gardener is opening up her award-winning plot to the public next weekend – so visitors can learn about art.

Ann Hackett's garden at 12, Darges Lane, Great Wyrley, will be open from 11am to 4pm on Sunday, August 31. Visitors can learn how to sculpt, watch painters at work, and listen to a group of singers

Entry is £3 in aid of the Royal Birmingham Society of Artists. There will be a raffle, quiz and refreshments.

Wartime tales are relived on Chase

CENTURIES of wartime tales, from the Anglo-Saxon period to the Great War, came to life during a military history weekend in Cannock Chase.

Hundreds of people attended the two-day event which coincided with the 100th anniversary of the outbreak of the First World War.

Organised by Staffordshire County Council, more than a dozen groups and associations helped to put on the event at Marquis Drive on Cannock Chase which included an encampment and arena displays from the 16th Lancers and the 1st Essex Yeomanry.

Visitors could also speak to the Thegns of Mercia group about the Staffordshire Hoard.

Ed Thompson, chairman of the Thegns of Mercia history group, said: "It is a popular event and it is in aid of a good cause.

"A lot of people come from miles miles around. There is so much going on with all the different periods."

Staffordshire County Council's community chief, Councillor Mike Lawrence, said the military weekend offered an insight into how soldiers lived and trained throughout history.

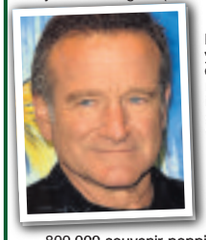
THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

YOU have just qualified as a heart surgeon. You may owe £100,000 in college fees but you have a glittering career ahead, saving lives and earning a fortune. Then you pick up the paper this week and learn that Imperial College London is developing a new gene therapy which may cure heart failure with a simple injection. When good news is bad news.

THE Tories' latest brainwave is to knock on the doors of terraced houses, ascertain that the occupants are hard-working folk and then spit in their faces. That's not strictly true. What the Tories are actually doing is inviting White Dee of Benefits Street to be a guest speaker at their conference. But it amounts to the same thing.

IN Scotland Votes (BBC2) Andrew Neil wasted far too much time agonising about what would happen to Trident and the UK nuclear deterrent if an independent Scotland ordered all nuclear warheads off its territory. The filing cabinets of Whitehall are stuffed full of contingency plans for everything from the Russians landing in Oban to France annexing Dover. If Alex Salmond's government declared a nuclear-free Scotland, the contingency plans would be dusted off and the Trident submarines would slip silently under the Clyde, reappearing a few days later in the moth-balled pens which have been ready for them for the past 50 years. I'm guessing somewhere on the east coast of the United States but this is all Top Secret so you mustn't tell anyone.

A BIBLE basher refers me to the Book of Zechariah which predicts the end of the world shortly after Israel is invaded by "a power from the north" which he says could be Russia, Iran or Isis. That's the great thing about prophecies. You write them in 500 BC and 2,514 years later they finally come right (or more likely, wrong).



WE woke to the news that Robin Williams was dead. If you switched on the radio and caught the tributes before you realised who they were talking about, you'd never have guessed the dead person was a Hollywood celebrity. They said he was kind, sweet and humble. There's not a lot of that in Tinseltown.

TOLD you so. Already, more than 200,000 of the 800,000 souvenir poppies on display at the Tower of London have been snapped up. This is going to end in tears, with thousands of disappointed folk leaving it too late.

ONE of the nastiest forms of prejudice is the assumption that everyone else is prejudiced. The former boxing promoter Frank Maloney reveals he is undergoing sex-change treatment and is now a woman called Kellie. Virtually all the coverage on TV and print seems to assume that hordes of wicked, bigoted people will scorn Maloney and either laugh in her face or spit on her in the street. In fact, the reaction to Maloney's sex change has been generally kind, understanding and perhaps a little curious.

SO in the great scheme of things what should we worry about? Is it a) One silly Ukip politician telling young people to study Adolf Hitler's public-speaking technique or b) 20,000 people attending an anti-Israel rally in London and thus giving comfort to Hamas, whose aim is to finish the Holocaust that Adolf Hitler began?

THAT national treasure Lionel Blair is celebrating 65 years in showbiz and admits he is hurt by occasional barbs, including the running jokes about him on I'm Sorry I Haven't a Clue (Radio 4). Charity seeks fundraising runners

RUNNERS are being encouraged to sign up for a half marathon to help raise money for a Cannock-based charity.

The Bupa Great Birmingham Run is taking place on October 19 and Newlife wants fundraisers to take part.

The charity, which helps disabled and terminally ill children in the West Midlands, is a partner for the half marathon, the biggest event of its kind in the West Midlands and is looking for fitness fundraisers to get on their running shoes and raise much-needed funds.

Those who are fit for the race, which will be officially started by double Commonwealth gold medal winner Jodie Stimpson, can secure their place for £20. Once a place is secured participants need to raise £130 for the charity. Newlife CEO Sheila Brown said: "Every penny that people donate goes directly to funding vital equipment.

"This could be a wheelchair or buggy for mobility, a specialist bed or car seat to keep a child safe or a communication aid so they can tell their parents when they are hungry or in pain."

She added: "With statutory services across the UK implementing continued budget cuts, we expect to see more and more families turn to Newlife Foundation for help. That's why we're appealing for local heroes."

If you have already signed up to the run and would like to raise money for Newlife call its fundraising team on 0800 988 4640 or email fundraise@newlifecharity.co.uk

1.6m more vehicles use toll motorway

AN EXTRA 1.6 million cars and lorries have used the M6 Toll, boosting revenues as drivers sought an alternative to roadworks and long delays on the M6.

But Midland Expressway, which runs the 27-mile long route, still racked up losses of more than £30 million, weighed down by interest and repayments on the £900m cost of construction eight years ago.

By Simon Penfold

The toll motorway saw a surge in use last year, due to work on the M6 and a free month offered to vehicle fleets run by members of the Road Haulage Association.

Midland Expressway's annual financial report, filed with Companies House, reveals that toll revenue in 2013 rose 13.5 per cent to £65.9m. Traffic increased 12.1 per cent to 14.65m vehicles during the year, up 1.6 million on 2012.

Revenues

In his strategic report, chief executive Tom Fanning said: "Traffic volumes and toll revenues for the year benefited from roadworks in place on the competing M6 which ran throughout 2013 until completion in April 2014."

But he warned that an improved M6 "may provide significant challenges" to the M6 Toll in the longer term.

In the meantime, the acceleration of the Highways Agency's Smart Motorway project widening and improving the M6 is likely to boost traffic for the toll road until the work is completed in 2015.

The toll road company also is hoping it will benefit from long term expansion of the Smart Motorway programme between Birmingham and Manchester.

As well as the M6 roadworks, the toll road also benefited from flat fuel prices, growth in the UK economy and a 'marked increase' in heavy goods traffic following the month's free trial in August last year for the Road Haulage Association.

Mr Fanning said last month that 1,000 extra lorries used the toll road during the free month, and 400 a day were using it after the event.

Midland Expressway also benefited from £2.54m takings from its service station at Norton Canes. As a result, the company's operating profits – the amount it made from running the business – rose to £37.7m from £32.4m the year before.

College business offer

SOUTH Staffordshire College is offering businesses and organisations an opportunity to showcase their products and services to more than 1,500 new students for free.

It is holding a series of induction fairs in September to help the new intake of students settle in to college both academically and socially. Events are planned across the college's four campuses at Tamworth, Lichfield, Rodbaston and Cannock. An event will take place at the Cannock campus on September 3.

Anyone wanting to exhibit can call 01543 301198 or email helen.pettit@southstaffs.ac.uk to reserve a place.

Olivia lands Beauty of a role

Olivia Gudgin, of Hammerwich, who has place in the English Youth Ballet

AN EMERGING dancer has landed a role in a new production, which will take place at Wolverhampton Grand Theatre. Olivia Gudgin of Dance City in Aldridge has secured a part in Sleeping Beauty which is being performed in September.

The nine-year-old, from Hammerwich, will be a songbird in the show, which is being put on by the English Youth Ballet production. She was encouraged to audition by her dance school, based in Walsall Wood Road. These took place at the end of May and early June and Olivia has been informed she has earned a role in the production on September 20 and 21.

Dance school principal Tracey Dicken said Olivia had been dancing for around five years and they were delighted she would be involved. She said: "Olivia wanted to do it and we supported her. It is great for the school as well."

Dance City teaches around 140 students in ballet, tap, freestyle, modern jazz, street dance and Irish along with gymnastics.

New law on repairs has MP's backing

CANNOCK Chase MP Aidan Burley has welcomed a new law that will cap the amount councils can charge leaseholders for future repairs to their homes.

The change was prompted by examples of councils issuing excessive and unfair repair bills to people who lease their home.

Councils and housing associations will now have to limit the amount they charge leaseholders for future major repair, maintenance or improvement work to £10,000 over five years.

Councils will also have to make clear what help is available for leaseholders who have to pay repair bills and offer affordable ways to pay these bills.

The changes are part of the Government's wider plan to give greater protection to people who lease.

Mr Burley said: "For too long councils were able to charge their residents who lease their home excessive and unfair fees for repair work which, in some cases, wasn't even needed.

"This will mean people in Cannock Chase who lease their home from the district council will be able to plan for their future knowing that they are protected from massive, unfair bills for repairs to their home."

Charity calls for collectors

A NATIONAL charity is urgently in need of volunteers to help collect donations.

Marie Curie Cancer Care wants people to help in Cannock, Hednesford and Rugeley. Collection co-ordinators liaise with shops, pubs and businesses to ensure boxes are on display, replace full boxes before counting and banking the money.

Marie Curie nurses provide care to terminally ill patients in their own homes while offering support to their families. For details call Laura Read on 01332 204221 or email laura.read@mariecurie.org.uk

Musical to offer songs and laughter

THERE will be laughter and music when a drama group in Staffordshire holds its new production. Me and My Girl is being performed by the Cannock Chase Drama Society.

It takes place at the Prince of Wales Theatre in Church Street, Cannock, from September 10-13.

The show tells the story of Bill Simpson, a lovable Lambeth lad, who is revealed to be the new Earl of Hareford. His newly-discovered aristocratic relations are horrified and attempt to educate Bill into the ways of the gentry and to separate him from the love of his life Sally.

The story line culminates in a comedy musical with a range of witty one-liners and amusing tricks, combined with toe-tapping songs such as Lambeth Walk, Leaning On A Lamppost, and Me and My Girl.

Tickets are between £8 and £12.50 and available from the theatre box office on 01543 578762 or 07968 757820. It is the latest performance by the the drama group which put on the classic fairytale Beauty and the Beast earlier this year.

The show was dedicated to the society's former secretary, Colin Cooper, who died last year after a short illness.

Road repairs set for nod

ROADS are resurfaced in Rugeley at a cost of £24,000 following complaints from residents and shopkeepers.

The service roads to shops and flats at St Michael's Drive, Brereton, have been earmarked for work by Cannock Chase Council because of their poor condition.

The council's decision-making cabinet was being recommended to agree the resurfacing project at a meeting today(Thursday).

Head of housing Ian Tennant, says: "The service roads require comprehensive re-surfacing at an estimated cost of £24,000."

Strenuous stroll

CHASE and District Group Ramblers will be going on a strenuous 12-mile walk at Buxton, Derbyshire, on Sunday. Walkers should meet at Hednesford railway station car park, Anglesey Street, for a 8.30am departure. Contact walk leader Paul on 01543 684254.

Sunrise on Chase as never seen before

A Drone Experience shot of Cannock Chase

WITH the sun rays breaking through the clouds and the deep azure sky, this is Cannock Chase as you've never seen it before – shot from a four-propeller drone aircraft.

The sunrise shot shows Sherbrook Valley in Brocton and was taken by Twitter favourite, Drone Experience, which regularly takes pictures using the soaring camera of some of the nation's most spectacular sites.

Other snaps include Tatton Park in Cheshire, Dartmouth in Devon, Carbis Bay in Cornwall and the Isle of Islay in Scotland. But this was the first picture taken using the gadget and it shows the sun's rays skimming through the fields turning them lush green and golden yellow, while the trees remain dark where the sunlight hasn't yet kissed them.

Breathtaking

Laura Freer from the Forestry Commission said visitors could see some breathtaking views over the Chase and she was extremely impressed with the photograph.

She said: "If you come to Birches Valley Forest Centre on Cannock Chase, there are lots of opportunities for you to take in breathtaking views either on foot or by bike, although perhaps not quite at the altitude of this photo taken over the Sherbrook Valley."

Drones are a new form of technology where helicopters are sent into the air to take unique aerial photographs of the ground below.

The hi-tech aerial camera, which is usually just two feet wide, is able to fly 800ft in the air and can reach speeds of of about 30 miles an hour.

Plans will turn Amazon depot into 'flagship' site

BOSSES say a multi-million pound scheme to redevelop the Amazon warehouse in Rugeley will see the site turned into one of the company's flagship locations.

Around 2,500 temporary workers are expected to be taken on for Christmas and 350 permanently after improvement plans were approved.

General manager Henry Low said they would be able to distribute more orders under the changes.

"This application represents a big opportunity for Amazon. We have always wanted this site to be one of our flagship stores," he said.

"I see this as an extremely positive development for Amazon, for the site and the local area."

The scheme involves creating a new entrance and extra car parking spaces at the site off Wheelhouse Lane. A roundabout and a bus stop would also be built.

Entrance

There would be a lorry park to the northwest of the site and a four-arm roundabout to provide access to a HGV waiting area. That would be linked to the existing south service yard to create an on-site lorry parking area for up to 40 HGVs.

A 344-space staff parking area would be created close to the employee entrance, while an access road to the site would be built.

Cannock Chase Council planning control committee approved the application. However, clarifying what conditions will be attached was delegated to officers.

Councillor Paul Fisher welcomed the plans. He said there had been concerns about noise, but was content that these had been resolved.

Skills gap pledge by county chief

ACTION is being taken to bridge the skills gap for business in Staffordshire as the economy continues to grow, a council chief has said.

Latest Job Seekers Allowance claimant figures show a decrease of 4.6 per cent across Staffordshire between June and July.

Staffordshire County Council chief for learning and skills, Councillor Ben Adams, said they have one of the fastest growing regional economies with a rising number of firms creating skilled high-quality jobs. He added that it was vital that people accessed the most up to date and impartial information and guidance on training and careers.

Councillor Adams said: "In Staffordshire unemployment has decreased significantly over the last 12 months with more opportunities being created. We are continuing to work with business and the permanent skills partnership centre at i54 South Staffordshire will be in operation soon after the new Jaguar Land Rover plant opens later this year."

A CLUB for photography enthusiasts has scooped a national award.

Cannock Photographic Society entered the Photographic Alliance Great Britain competition and took top place.

It is the first time the group have won the prestigious competition and were awarded the trophy plate which they will now keep for a year.

The national photographic championships were held in July and the team won with a joint effort by members who submitted a variety of shots and themed images.

Club vice chairman Paul Reynolds said: "It is really great news to have won such a fantastic award.

"I am very proud of the members and their talents."

The society was founded in 1953 as the Cannock Photographic and Cine Society by a small band of enthusiasts and today the society has around 90 members with at least 40 attending the weekly meetings.

The group meet each Thursday between September to May at Mill Street Methodist Church hall and are always happy for new members to join. Anyone who wishes to contact the group should visit www.cannockps.co.uk

NEWS IN BRIEF

2,400 vehicles seized in blitz

MORE than 2,400 vehicles have been seized in a crackdown on insurance dodgers in Staffordshire.

The Cars Behind Bars initiative was started by Police & Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis.

The campaign carried out by Staffordshire Police has seen 2,421 cars, vans, motorcycles, mopeds, lorries and even a tractor seized since it was launched in May 2013.

Mr Ellis said: "Staffordshire Police have done a cracking job with the policy that I set out a year ago.

"Over 2,400 people have now learnt their lesson."

Customers help WaterAid charity

SOUTH Staffs Water customers are being thanked for helping to raise £36,204 for the company's nominated charity, WaterAid.

The money is enough to transform the lives of 2,413 of the world's poorest people through access to clean water.

WaterAid's aim is to provide safe water, sanitation and hygiene education. South Staffs Water began running its customer campaign in 1995 and customers have raised more than £679,682 for the charity.

Vet apprentices going to college

SOUTH Staffordshire College has launched a new veterinary apprenticeship programme at its Rodbaston Campus.

The Level 2 Diploma for Veterinary Care Assistants is being introduced in September to meet demand from veterinary practices.

The programme will run over a 12 to 18 month period with one day a week at college in addition to workplace mentoring.

IN MY VIEW

with Mark Andrews

MIRANDA Hart is one of the funniest comedy stars of our time. When you come down to it, she is just about the only purveyor of simple, funny, family friendly comedy around at the moment.

After all, who else is doing mainstream comedy these days? All we get at the moment are the tired old American imports, foul-mouthed public school stand ups and endless dreary panel games populated by the usual circuit of posh boys.

Which makes it all the more depressing is that Miranda Hart has just been announced as the new host of the Generation Game. Let's be honest. There are lots of shows from the 1970s that are well worth reviving, but the Generation Game isn't one of them.

There was only one host who truly made it work, and no, he didn't wear a toupe. Larry Grayson was good. Sharp as a knife, quick witted and entertaining.

Larry Grayson's Generation Game was the perfect warm up to Saturday-night viewing, with Mike Yarwood, Juliet Bravo, or whatever else on afterwards. But take away Grayson, and all you really had was a few middle-aged housewives making a pig's ear of pottery or cake decorating or whatever.

Which is not really much of an improvement on watching oddballs murdering popular tunes of the past decade or so. Or washed-up politicians and minor celebrities trying their hand at the tango. It really is tragic.

Miranda, if you've got any sense, think again. Stick to what you're good at. Writing sitcoms. And leave the Generation Game where it truly belongs. To the past generation.

AFTER what seems like one of the shortest close-seasons in years, the football season is well and truly back with us.

Normally, this is a time of hope and optimism, of looking forward to the new season. And indeed my team, Aston Villa, made a reasonably solid start, notching up a difficult 1-0 victory away to Stoke City.

So why is it I can't ever remember going into a new season feeling quite so underwhelmed? Well maybe it is something to do with a statistic in a quiz by the Football League Trust last week. Essentially, it asked, if all the teams in the Premier League during the 2012/2013 season were ranked in order of how much they spent on players, how would that differ from the actual league table at the end of the season?

Depressingly, the answer is that one solitary team actually performed better on the field than they did in the transfer window. Or put it another way, it is almost entirely down to money.

Going into the new season at the weekend, which was the lowest-spending side in the Premier League? Aston Villa. Perhaps you will understand my trepidation...

Ellie's baking skills saw her win experts' plaudits

In the pool on her way to win the 200m at Eind-

The swimmer poses next to her gold post box

Ellie is making waves as our own golden girl

Reporter CHARLOTTE LILLEY on Ellie Simmonds' rise as an inspirational swimmer and celebrity

SHE is the sports star who can't stop winning.

Paralympic swimmer Ellie Simmonds first found her way into the nation's hearts after winning her first gold medals at the Paralympics in Beijing aged 13.

Then she became the poster girl of London 2012 when she picked up a medal in each of her four events.

And along the way she has been made an OBE and even wowed Paul Hollywood and Mary Berry with her baking skills.

More recently the now 19-year-old excelled herself once again winning three golds and silver at the European Championships in Eindhoven, in the Netherlands.

Ellie broke her own world record to win gold in the SM6 200m individual medley. She finished in a time of three minutes 4.07 seconds, beating her old time by 0.34 seconds.

However, after swimming the 400m freestyle S6 title in five minutes 28.31 seconds, the ever-perfectionist from Aldridge said that while she was 'really happy' to win gold, 'it was a rubbish swim. I'm not happy with the time.'

Her father Steve says: "Ellie wasn't happy with her time because she was hoping to be a little bit quicker.

"I am very proud of her and so is her mum because she is constantly getting better and better every time she takes to the pool."

Walsall's golden girl was the youngest British athlete at the 2008 summer Paralympics in Beijing and after winning two medals she followed the feat with two more golds at the 2012 Paralympics.

Last year she was crowned star baker when she took part in Comic Relief's celebrity version of The Great British Bake Off. She whipped up some tasty chocolate orange scones to get plaudits from judges Mary Berry and Paul Hollywood, while her showstopper soldier cake landed her joint top spot with Newsnight's Kirsty Wark.

"She has got bags of energy and she's always on the go and getting involved with something or other," says Steve.

"At the minute she is keeping herself busy training because she gets her A-Level results next week and she is a little nervous about them."

Ellie seen after receiving her silver medal at the European Championships

The paralympian is currently studying psychology at Loughborough College and wants to continue with her studies next year. She moved to Leicester from Swansea and began training with new coach Steve Bailey a year ago.

Her father says: "She has been doing really well with Steve but I think she was a little apprehensive at first about taking part," he says.

"It's great having Ellie in Loughborough because it is only down the road.

"She is a real homebody and enjoys spending time with her family. " She has also enlisted the help of comedian David Walliams for a campaign to get people swimming next month. She features in a video giving her own swimming tips for SwimBritain.

The initiative invites people to take part in a four-person relay where each team member swims 250m four times around a specially-designed course.

Walliams, who famously swam the River Thames for charity, has created a video with Ellie to talk about their shared love for swimming.

In the video Ellie says the greatest moment in her sporting career was going to Beijing and taking part in the 2012 London Paralympics. "To take the gold and hear the roar, it was a real buzz," she says.

After the European Championships she will begin training for the World Championships, which will be held in Glasgow next year.

Disappointed

She was forced to watch this year's Commonwealth Games from the sidelines as the competition did not have a swimming category for her. Her father says: "Ellie wasn't able to compete at the Commonwealth Games because it isn't like the Olympics in that it doesn't have her class of swimming.

"She was a little bit disappointed, but the European Championships were what she wanted to focus on more and next year she has got the World Championships in Glasgow which she is looking forward to. After that she will be thinking about Rio and qualifying for the Olympics there."

In 2011, the swimmer was awarded an OBE for services to Paralympic sport and in 2012 a golden postbox was unveiled in her home town of Aldridge.

Royal Mail painted the former red postbox in High Street. Mr Simmonds says: "Ellie loves the post box and still visits it and tells us that whenever we have letters to post we must only use that box."

WEEK IN POLITICS

with Daniel Wainwright

UKIP'S Bill Etheridge learned a rather valuable lesson last week about public speaking – that it's generally a bad idea to say anything that could be construed as positive about Adolf Hitler.

Ironically, it was a seminar on effective public speaking that saw his comments rounded on by his party's critics.

Why the West Midlands MEP decided it would be a good idea to even bring up the Nazi leader at all, let alone suggest budding politicians look at his speaking style, only he can say.

And I've never known any modern politician win a seat by walking up and down during a speech and fixing the audience with his or her stare the way Mr Etheridge was said to have described Hitler.

Far from being 'desperate' for politicians to start talking, as Mr Etheridge says those who listened to Hitler were, these days people are more likely to stand up and walk out or worse.

No-one hangs on David Cameron or Ed Miliband's words. Every time they tweet anything the first response is usually from someone calling them, respectively, Dishface and Beaker.

But has this damaged UKIP? Not particularly, if online reaction is anything to go by.Those who were against UKIP remained resolute on that, taking this story as further evidence that they do not deserve a seat in the Commons.

Yet those who were already part of the so-called 'earthquake' of the European and council elections in May were content with Mr Etheridge's side of the story and rallied round to condemn the Mail on Sunday for its coverage.

Every Black Country council is now under the control of Labour. Walsall's Tories were forced from power in a special meeting called after a by-election gave Labour back the 30 seats it was on after May's local elections.

The death after those elections of leader Tim Oliver left Labour on 29 and meant a rainbow alliance – albeit a rainbow missing any shades of red – of Tories, Lib Dems, UKIP and independence voted for the status quo.

Labour ended up paying to fly three of its councillors back from their summer holidays for the crucial vote.

Politically, it might not be the worst thing for the Tories. They would have continued to get stick for staying in control after being reduced to just over a third of the seats.

And now they get to campaign for the next election against an incumbent Labour party that won't yet have got its feet under the table. At least, that's what I'd say if I were the Conservatives and putting a brave face on it.

Labour has the advantage of being both incumbent locally and in opposition in Westminster. And that's certainly done it no harm in Wolverhampton, Sandwell and Dudley these past few years.

Dementia does not just hit the elderly – wife

A NURSE says more people need to be made aware that dementia does not just affect the elderly.

Anita Evans is helping the Alzheimer's Society launch Cannock Chase Memory Walk by re-creating a huge Memory Tree.

Her husband, Stephen, was diagnosed with Alzheimer's in 2010 aged just 57.

She said: "I want to raise awareness to ensure people recognise the signs and don't write off the idea of dementia because they are not old enough.

"I hope that in doing the Cannock Chase Memory Walk I can help spread this message.

"I also feel it is quite apt as nowadays all Stephen seems to do is pace, he must walk hundreds of miles a week!'

This year's walk is on September 14.

Memory trees have been part of the event since it began four years ago. Participants write messages on tags about why they are taking part.

Anita Evans who is helping the launch of the Cannock Chase Memory Walk

Vital

Mrs Evans said: "Writing my message was a very poignant part of the walk for me last year."

Her husband is now in the late stages of Alzheimer's. He lives in a specialist hospital ward and has no memory of the couple's life together.

She said getting an early diagnosis was vital and remembered the signs

He had a heart attack in 2003 and this led to changes in his personality. "Doctors just kept putting the issues down to this," she said.

Mr Evans went to the doctor repeatedly from 2006, but felt he made no progress. In 2010 the couple paid privately to visit a neuro psychologist, he carried out a number of tests and the results showed he had Alzheimer's. Mrs Evans said despite the signs they were still shocked at the diagnosis.

The couple accessed the Alzheimer's Society website for information and spoke to people on the charity's forum.

"It was so helpful to read the information and hear from others who were going through the same thing as it reassured us," Mrs Evans said.

The 58-year-old will be joined on the walk by her two step-daughters and her daughter-in-law. The family wants to raise more than £500.

To sign up go to www.memorywalk.

Nearing end

AT last the roadworks in Rugeley appear to be coming very slowly to an end.

An old, late friend of mine had an expression regarding the men working on the roads: "If they are self-employed, they will starve."

So true. They spend a great deal of time on their mobiles and watching work, hoping it will go away.

Warehouse noise impacting on health

RESIDENTS living just 100 metres from the Amazon distribution centre have been subjected to low frequency vibration from the plant's air conditioning and generator sets. The noise we experience in our gardens and the low frequency detected in our houses has steadily increased from 2013.

We have filed a complaint with the general manager at Amazon who was to arrange for a noise consultant to visit our properties. This has not taken place. We have also contacted the environmental agency at Cannock Council and we have compiled a daily log since June of this year stating times and strengths of the low frequency pulses which cause our properties to vibrate.

Following contact with the environmental officer, Amazon's GM has reduced the running times. Previously we have had nights when we could not sleep due to the constant buzzing. So I read with shock and horror the Chronicle's report of the application to double the warehouse capacity. We were not given any indication of this application.

The report stated that 'environmental officers say they have been satisfied that noise will not adversely impact on neighbours'.

However, the existing plant and operation is already impacting on our daily lives and health and is documented. We are all in support of additional jobs but not at the expense of ruining our daily lives.

Isolated villagers are forgotten about

I HAVE read the articles in the Chronicle over the last two weeks about the Arriva buses between Norton Canes and Cannock/Brownhills.

Arriva seem so proud they have put an extra 33 service on, giving the people of Norton Bridge and Norton East Road five buses an hour now to Cannock and three to Brownhills.

However people living at the Norton Green end of the village don't have one at all now they have taken the 32 bus off. This has left dozens of people, including many pensioners like myself, with no way of leaving the village without walking about three quarters of a mile.

We don't even have a shop – we are just isolated and forgotten.

We pay our taxes but nobody cares.

Just blooming great

A BLOOMING big thank you to our brilliant flower power gardeners in the Hednesford area.

I know everyone does appreciate the lovely array of colours and aromas that accompany them, so nice to see people sitting around the timepiece chatting or just resting.

Also the hanging baskets give pleasure to the eye. It's nice to see so many people out and about in the town again. Thank you to the 'Titchmarsh Brigade'. Blooming great!

Fete marks scheme's 30th year

ON Saturday August 9, the Sneydlands in Bryans Lane Rugeley hosted a summer fete and open day to mark its 30 year anniversary.

A lot of hard work was put in by residents, scheme manager Ann Walton and staff, with help from volunteers, to make a very enjoyable day. There were stalls with bric-a-brac, books and jewellery for sale, a raffle, tombola and cakes.

The gardens looked beautiful and a special display of flowers and shrubs depicted the year Sneydlands opened, 1984, and this current year.

The weather on the day was very kind which enabled myself to proudly introduce "The Keep Fit Team" display. The energy and enthusiasm of these senior citizens is to be admired and I am very proud of them all.

Congratulations to Sneydlands for a lovely day of celebrations and hope they have many more.

Development will not be detrimental

IN response to P Keeling's letter objecting the proposed Mill Green development: The traffic impact will be on the A460 in the main as traffic will be coming from the motorway network to reach the site. There are already works being undertaken by the Highways Agency to improve traffic flow on the Orbital ring road, and the necessary work for creating a new section of dual carriageway by the site has been completed by Staffordshire County Council.

Please show me a case study that proves such a development would have a 'long term detrimental effect' on the area. The areas around Cheshire Oaks and Bicester Village have been rejuvenated since their respective designer villages opened. I await with bated breath your master plan for creating jobs for the youth of the area other than such a complex – build more supermarkets perhaps?

Kept in the dark over building on estate

I WAS interested to read of the public exhibition on the proposed Mill Green Designer Village. What a pity Cannock Council is not as forthcoming with the plans for the Kingsway/Moss Road estate I live on. It is about to be ripped apart with the demolition of the Reema flats leaving the estate with four years of hell – living on a building site.

This estate has a residents/tenants association but despite three months of begging, the plans for the new houses have not been disclosed to the committee or any residents.

Apparently the person concerned has been overwhelmed with work on the new IT system the council is installing and has now gone on holiday.

Youngsters unite to tend German graves

Students from Staffordshire and Bremen joined together to tend German war graves at Cannock Chase

TEENAGERS from Staffordshire teamed up with Germany students to pay their respects to fallen soldiers by tending to war graves.

A total of 23 young people spent the morning cleaning and tidying the graves at the German Military Cemetery at Cannock Chase.

Representatives from the Royal British legion and Staffordshire County Council also took part.

The annual event forms part of two weeks' worth of commemorations between the German War Graves Commission and the council and has been running since 1962.

As well as honouring the sacrifice of those killed in conflict, the visit is seen as an opportunity for the visitors and their hosts to improve their language skills, build new friendships, learn more about the history of both world wars and concentrate on the theme of peace and reconciliation.

Councillor Mark Sutton said: "Young people have been visiting Staffordshire from Germany to help tend the military graves for over 50 years now. The visit is all part of the Bremen Exchange, which brings together young people to commemorate the many years of friendship between Staffordshire and the German state of Bremen.

"The activity gives the teenagers the opportunity to make new friends, share experiences, and learn from each other, while remembering those who lost their lives in the wars. This is a particularly poignant year for all of us, as we commemorate the 100th anniversary of the start of First World War, so it is even more important that we maintain these friendships to build a better future."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Researcher unearths link to war hero Jack

A BATTLEFIELD archaeologist working on a Second World War project in Singapore has uncovered an amazing link with his hometown and a Black Country soldier, almost 7,000 miles away.

Jon Cooper, from Cannock, has been researching the site where almost 70 years ago, some of the most ferocious fighting in the Pacific War took place in a quiet suburb called Adam Park in the centre of the island.

There, the Cambridgeshires – a novice British infantry battalion which included many Black Country men – were thrown into the thick of fighting in the epic Battle of Singapore.

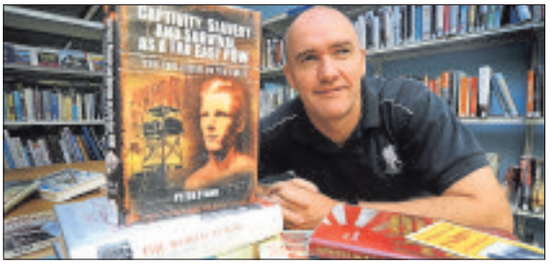
Miraculously, for four gruelling days the soldiers held their ground and stood firm against the elite Japanese onslaught. It was the Allies' last stand before the fall of Singapore, an event described by Prime Minister Winston Churchill as the 'worst disaster and largest capitulation in British history.'

Mr Cooper, a 49-year-old former serviceman, has been investigating the site as part of his PhD studies and came across the diary of a ex-Cambridgeshire infantryman from Old Hill in Cradley Heath who wrote about the battalion training at Cannock. Jack Jennings, now in his 90s and living in Cornwall, told of buying a pocket watch at a shop in Cannock and having to leave it there, after taking it back for repairs, when the battalion was suddenly moved to Lichfield Barracks before being sent to Singapore.

Mr Cooper was in Cannock recently, to see his parents in Hatherton Road. The ex-Chenet Comprehensive pupil launched the Singapore project after his wife Alison, a bank executive, was posted there, where they now live with their two children. Mr Cooper gained permission from the Singapore government to carry out an archaeological dig at Adam Park.

Jack Jennings in his wartime uniform

Mr Jennings, now in his 90s, in Cornwall



John Cooper, researching a WWII story about a soldier from Cradley Heath

He said: "The estate is a time capsule. No one has ever dug there before.

"Coming across Jack Jennings diary was incredible. When he mentioned Cannock, the town where I grew up and went to school, and the church down the road where my sisters got married, I couldn't believe it."

Now he is appealing for information about the Cannock Chase camps during the Second World War. He is also interested in details about any watch shops in Cannock at that period.

Anyone who can help is asked to contact Mr Cooper at: jonalicooper@gmail.com

Charity stock damaged in blaze

Manager Ellen Tranter, right, and assistant manager Bobbie Stevenson with the burned out bin shed

ARSONISTS set fire to a bin area behind a charity shop in Cannock, damaging stock. The wheelie bin unit behind the Sue Ryder outlet in Stafford Road, was targeted on Sunday.

The area was badly burned out and smoke filtered through to the shop, ruining some clothes and two sofas. The store only opened last September but in February had windows smashed with a sledgehammer.

Bosses are now appealing for donations to make up for lost items. Manager Ellen Tranter said: "We've had to get rid of a couple of sofas and beds so we need all the donations we can get."

Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Service confirmed the blaze was started deliberately. Anyone with information is urged to call police on 101.

Parcel firm to recruit

A RECRUITMENT drive has been launched for 100 warehouse workers at a growing parcels delivery firm in Cannock.

Courier company APC Overnight is now advertising for the posts at its headquarters in Kingswood Lakeside Business Park.

The firm moved into its new £15 million national sorting centre last summer and its commitment to creating new jobs has been hailed as a boost for the area.

The company announced earlier this year it was looking to recruit up to 140 extra staff which included forklift truck drivers.

Excellent

It is hoped the recruitment of the hundred warehouse operatives will be completed by the end of September.

Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson said: "It is excellent news, that is a lot of jobs and it is very welcome."

The move from its old base at Essington to Cannock has seen APC double in size, recruiting hundreds of extra staff. The company currently employs 430 staff, mostly working overnight and since the move to the new base turnover has risen by more than 17 per cent to £88 million.

Action call on lack of house care

COUNCIL bosses have forced the owner of a derelict Hednesford home into action over the property.

By Marion Brennan

A lack of care at the tiny two-up-two-down in Cannock Road, Hightown, has left it in a sorry state.

Owner Ron Turville has now been ordered to pay almost £800 for failing to make improvements.

Cannock Chase Council first wrote to the 70-year-old in February last year following complaints from neighbours.

They asked him to improve the look of the building, called Providence House, which was built in 1878 but has been unoccupied since the late 1990s.

No work was carried out and enforcement action was taken through the serving of a notice last summer, requiring all works to be completed by July 25.

The council said some repairs were carried out but they were of an unacceptable standard and no more work has taken place since.

Mr Turville, of Greenheath Road, pleaded guilty at Stafford Magistrates Court to non-compliance with a council notice. He was fined £300 and ordered to pay costs of £455 and a victim surcharge of £30.

Cannock planning leader Councillor Gordon Alcott said: "The condition of the building has caused growing concern, as no effort was being made to maintain it.

"We tried to work with Mr Turville over the best part of 12 months to make sure that the required improvements were made but unfortunately this didn't happen."

The council said the owner has since informed the authority that the property is due to be demolished on September 1.

Councillor Alcott said: "Officers will be visiting shortly after that date to make sure demolition work has begun.

"If it hasn't, or if the requirements of the Section 215 Notice have not been met, then the council will be taking the matter further."

After some 'unacceptable' work was carried out

Club celebrates 60 years of giving women help

A CLUB in Cannock is celebrating its 60 years of working to improve the lives of women and girls locally, nationally and internationally.

As Cannock Soroptimists celebrates reaching its diamond milestone, the Soroptimist International UK Federation is celebrating reaching its 80th year.

Passion to improve the lives of women and children around the world is at the heart of the Soroptimist movement.

Throughout the decades, members have been driven by the same goals: working to achieve equal rights through the education, empowerment and enabling of women.

Sue Cartlidge left, who heads the endometriosis awareness raising team, and club programme action officer Dawn Jacobs-Clutton

Thriving

Since its birth in America, Soroptimism has spread to more than 100 countries with in excess of 3,000 clubs. Its 80,000 worldwide members make Soroptimist International (SI) the biggest and most influential women's voluntary organisation in the world.The SI Cannock & District is a thriving club.

Three new members have already been inducted this year and others are attending meetings with a view to joining.

It meets generally twice each month at the Barns Hotel, Cannock, enjoying a meal and friendship while planning the programme action projects which are at the heart of Soroptimism.

Press officer Trish Mellor said: "The work we do ranges from holding fund raising events in order to support local refuges for women victims of domestic violence as well as for international projects. We are also very involved in lobbying and raising awareness of many issues affecting women."

The club is currently involved in preparing talks and leaflets to raise awareness among young women and teenage girls regarding the health issue endometriosis.

Another group is working with other clubs in the Midland Chase Region to establish their continued role in fighting Female genital Mutilation. Members will join Rotary International at Weston Park in the clean up following the V Festival when items of use to women needing the local refuges will be collected and donated to them.

Harry welcomes Clive to 130-strong Invictus team

PRINCE Harry welcomed Sapper Clive Smith from Cannock as one of the 130 servicemen and women who will represent Britain at the launch of his inaugural Invictus Games.

The 28-year-old lost both his legs in a roadside explosion while serving in Afghanistan.

The Games event for injured and sick servicemen and women is backed by Prince Harry and will see more than 400 competitors representing 14 nations compete at the Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park in London on September 10-14.

Sapper Smith has been training three days a week after securing a place in the England cycling time trials squad. He said: "The games are Harry's baby and it was really nice to meet him and speak to him.

Training – Sapper Clive Smith, at his home in Rugeley Road, Hazel Slade

The prince raises a laugh after he stops a speech from blowing away in London

Fantastic

"He asked each of the 130 squad members how they were getting on and joked with us all which was nice. My training is going really well and I am going out on the bike three to four times a week.

"The most I've done in one session is 70 miles so I think I will be fine when it comes to the games. Being at the launch was fantastic and it was great to be back in the company of some of the guys who I met in rehab. I am really looking forward to it."

Prince Harry gave a personal good luck message to the service personnel when the team was unveiled last week.

The 29-year-old cracked jokes and raised a laugh as he had to retrieve his speech when it blew away.

He said: "Prosthetics, dogs, wheelchairs, high-performance cars, 4x4s, tattoos – we've got everything here. It could only be the Invictus Games."

He thanked the public and the media for their support of the games, which he has championed and are being backed by the Royal Foundation of The Duke and Duchess of Cambridge and Prince Harry and the Ministry of Defence.

He said: "These men and women here have achieved so much already but being selected for this team is another significant milestone in their life beyond injury." He said the games were not just for those taking part, but for the "wider family" and added that the team would not just be competing for themselves but for their "mates."

Spr Smith suffered his injuries searching for an Improved Explosive Device in Afghanistan and now walks using artificial limbs.

DON'T GET CAUGHT OUT IN THE COLD VISIT ALDRIDGE FIREPLACES THIS WEEKEND AND SAVES £££££'S ON YOUR NEW FIREPLACE SUITE

As Summer comes to an end and the dark nights start to fall upon us, it's the ideal time to consider a new fireplace and ensure your home is warm and cosy for winter - and you'll find no shortage of inspiration at a fireplace showroom in the centre of Aldridge.

Since relocating to Aldridge over six years ago, the company seems to be growing from strength to strength, having also recently refurbished their Bromsgrove branch too. "We have both been surprised, and pleased, with how the business has progressed" states Matt. "In this current climate, people are choosing not to move but, stay and improve their home, and a fireplace will add significant value to their home. Aldridge Fireplaces is a family-owned business with the emphasis on a relaxed, personal service and offers a unique service on all suites and packages, the stylish showroom features some exclusive marble and Portuguese limestone displays, solid wood and stone surrounds.''

Our experienced sales staff are also able to offer packages to suit all ages and styles of home, and offer quality products at affordable prices, as well as manufacture bespoke fireplaces to the correct size for each customer if required. In addition to this there is currently FREE FITTING on offer when you purchase a fire with a suite. So unlike many other companies you will not be hit with a bill of around £250 to fit your fire and fireplace, we will cover the cost!!!. This bank holiday we will be carrying out one of our biggest sales yet! on Friday 22nd, Saturday 23rd August and Monday 25th August where we will be offering some amazing deals. ''We feel August bank holiday is an opportunity for families to get out as this is the last of the year'' states Dan. ''And with this in mind we wanted to offer our customers something special and decided for this weekend only to offer 50% off any fire when purchased with one of our quality suites.''

''The free fitting has proven to be very popular'' adds Matt. ''We now have a qualified Gas Safe and Hetas accredited team of engineers who work for the company and our customers can therefore be confident that all work carried out is completed to the relevant industry standards.'' Matt comments ''Most fireplace showrooms in the market will offer a card from a third party installer, well that's where we differ as all our works are carried out and guaranteed by the company therefore giving you added satisfaction and peace of mind.''

Staff will visit each home if required to ensure the correct specification of fireplace is fitted. The choice of fires and fireplaces is a very personal one, so with us visiting each customer's home personally we can offer advice as to which ones would look the best.

"In the past we have celebrated our anniversary with different offers'' adds Matt. ''However this is one of our best yet 50% is a massive saving. Not only are we offering our customers FREE FITTING on all suites when purchased with a gas or electric fire we will give you a 50% discount off any of our gas or electric fire range (this excludes balanced flue and power flued specialist fires and any manager's specials) . I don't believe anyone else in the area are currently offering such an amazing deals this bank holiday.''

With all this in mind it has never been a better time to purchase your new fireplace from us and with the added incentive of 50% off your gas or electric fire when purchased with any suite, this is an offer not to be missed.

This is an offer not to be missed and will start Friday 22nd August 10am - 4:30pm, Saturday 23rd August 10am - 4:30pm Sunday 24th August Closed and reopen Monday 25th August 2013 10am - 4pm for 3 days only!!

Located at 51A Anchor Road, Opposite The crown carvery (The Elms), and with ease of parking Aldridge Fireplaces offer a unique shopping experience -friendly, helpful staff and extremely competitive pricing.

Dogged detective players in new game

A NEW mobile game starring Staffordshire police dogs is proving a hit with more than 600 downloads in its first two days.

The 'cops and robbers' app, which aims to help keep children safe online, has also had 1,500 referrals to online safety websites. Kash Dash features police dogs Jasper, new recruit Emma, and the Staffordshire force mascot Kash.

Emma is a year-old Labrador retriever, and Kash is a former police dog. The app has been designed by the Office of Staffordshire's Police and Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis.

by Marion Brennan

Messaging

With game-play similar to the popular mobile game Flappy Birds, Kash Dash helps to protect youngsters via onscreen messaging about cyber-bullying, stranger danger and privacy settings.

Links also provide information about local police and an option to sign up to email alerts.

At the end of each round, the player gets a score which could see him or her promoted.

The dogs are more usually employed in helping officers seek out drugs, cash and explosives during police raids.

Mr Ellis, said: "We must find ways to better connect youngsters with information on how to stay safe online.

"Rather than asking them to find their way to us, this game takes vital safety messages to them using technology which is familiar.

"We need to be smarter in how we engage with youngsters and this new game will do that."

Staffordshire's interim Chief Constable Jane Sawyers said: "Online safety is increasingly a major concern for parents and educating children in this area is a priority for the force."

It can be downloaded for free on Android and Apple via http://bit.ly/kashdash or by searching 'Kash Dash' on the online stores.

Pocketing the profit looms for covers

MINI -entrepreneurs have been overwhelmed with orders for their unique loom band phone cases.

Two sisters from Cannock have been making the covers from the latest craze and are selling them for £3.50 each to raise pocket money for their summer holiday.

Mum Michelle Winstone, from Stafford Road said her daughters Lia , aged nine, and 12-year-old Kerys-Mae came up with the idea from playing with the small plastic bands and had six orders in the first 15 minutes when she proudly posted a picture on Facebook of their creations.

Mrs Winstone said: "It wasn't intentional to make them to sell, but the girls were enjoying making them and when I posted a picture online we were overwhelmed with the number of orders we received.

"Now we have had to stop taking orders and simply sell them as the girls make them because I am worried they will get bored of loom bands, like kids do and we don't want to have hundreds of disappointed orders."

Firm moves into Top Gear with cover shot

A £380,000 Rolls Royce, a Mercedes Benz S63 Coupe and a Porsche Macan: the supercars gleaming on the cover of this month's Top Gear magazine are the stuff of dreams.

They were also shot right here on our doorstep at Pentalver Cannock Ltd.

The firm was chosen as the perfect location for the cover shoot of the blokey bible due to the high number of huge containers it owns and its experience in handling luxury cars.

Over two painstaking days, the depot in Pentalver Way, Cannock, opened its doors to a Rolls Royce worth £380,000 and weighing two-and-a-half tons. It had to be carefully craned into one of the containers, followed by a Mercedes Benz S63 Coupe, Porsche Macan, Jaguar Project 7, BMW i8 and a Range Rover.

Expensive

Company spokesman Fran Lotus said the entire workforce was extremely excited about gracing the prestigious front page of the BBC's celebrated car show.

"We were dealing with very expensive, heavy cars, so a lot of time and care had to be taken to make sure they were securely fastened into the harness so the crane could place them inside the containers. It took a lot of brainpower and precision."

The idea of the photo shoot was to showcase the 'best in class' cars from a variety of manufacturers in an industrial setting. It took two days to complete between July 16 and 17 and also included a Citroen C-Cactus, Volkswagen UP, Audi S1 and a BAC Mono.

Depot manager Andy Gallimore said it was a company first.

"At Pentalver we have years of experience with loading and handling prestige cars for import and export at our depots in Cannock, Felixstowe, Southampton and Tilbury, but I don't think we've ever tried to put a Rolls Royce on top of a container before," he said.

"I wanted staff to experience and get involved with this rare opportunity, which they did and Top Gear helped to ensure this was the case."

Pentalver Cannock is part of one of the UK's largest container depot and transport companies. The company has a fleet of 145 trucks and employs 227 drivers. The firm doubled in size in 2005 when it purchased Bowmur Haulage Ltd of Cannock.

Life-saving group will celebrate fifth year

A LIFE-saving group will mark its fifth anniversary with a garden party this weekend.

Penkridge & District Community First Responders formed in 2009. The group was set up by Leigh Rogers and is run solely by volunteers.

Members give support to West Midlands Ambulance Service and attend medical emergencies in Penkridge, Acton Trussell and Huntington, as well as other parts of Cannock, Stafford and Hednesford.

By Tim Spiers

Raffle

The group is busier than ever, with the number of incidents responded to so far in 2014 already higher than for the whole of 2013.

The garden party takes place on Saturday, August 23, from 1-4pm at the Haling Dene Centre in Cannock Road. It will feature live music, food, Zumba demonstrations, a raffle and a performance from a barbershop quartet.

Tickets cost £2 and include entry into the raffle, with prizes included a Fortnum & Mason hamper.

Village businesses have also donated prizes, including the Littleton Arms, Flames Indian Restaurant and Village Pizza.

Donors can roll up their sleeves

VOLUNTEERS are being urged to give blood in Penkridge next week. NHS Blood and Transplant is appealing for volunteers to attend Peace Memorial Hall in Pinfold Lane on Wednesday, August 27 between 1.30 and 3.30pm and from 4.30 to 7.30pm. Call 0300 123 23 23 to book.

Bull serves up 70th anniversary treat

Tom and Mabel Morey celebrate their 70th wedding anniversary at Steve Bull's restaurant in Tettenhall

LOVE blossomed over the bacon slicer when they worked as shop assistants at the same greengrocers. Now Mabel and Tom Morey are celebrating 70 years of marriage.

An early anniversary celebration was spent at Steve Bull's Wolverhampton restaurant Bravaccio's where daughter Margaret had arranged for her Wolves-mad dad to meet the former England striker.

The couple, of Manston Hill, Penkridge, married in August 1944 at Holy Trinity Church in Heath Town when Tom was 18 and Mabel, one of 14 children, a year older.

Tom, now 88, spent the first 20 years of his working life at Jackson's galvanising factory on Dudley Road, moving on to other companies before retiring from Chubbs in Wednesfield Road. Mabel worked nights at Midland Counties Dairy for several years and also working at Bewley's tobacconists in Queen's Square.

The couple have two children, seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. They are planning a grand family get-together next month as part of a double celebration for Mabel's 90th birthday.

Centre offers free tennis

BURNTWOOD Leisure Centre is offering tennis players free use of its courts over the August Bank Holiday.

From August 23-25 visitors to the High Street venue can play on the two outdoor newly resurfaced courts.

In addition to the courts being resurfaced, new nets have been installed and court markings for both tennis and netball have been painted.

The free courts can be booked from now and are subject to availability and weather conditions. To reserve a court call 01543 308810.

Number of jobless on decrease once again

UNEMPLOYMENT in the West Midlands fell by 3,000 to 210,000 between April and June, as job queues shrank across the region.

By Simon Penfold

Nationwide unemployment was down 132,000 to 2.08 million, and Prime Minister David Cameron tweeted: "Very good news on employment: 2 million new private sector jobs since 2010, and a record fall in unemployment."

The PM added: "Youth unemployment has also fallen by 206,000 over past year – the largest drop since records began. Our long-term economic plan is working."

Meanwhile, the number of people claiming Jobseeker's Allowance in the UK is on course to dip below a million for the first time in six years.

Across the West Midlands the claimant count has been brought down by 42,952 over the last year to 107,043 in July.

Down

The claimant count across Staffordshire – not including Stoke on Trent – was down 351 to 7,279, or just 1.4 per cent.

In Cannock Chase it was down by 24 on the previous month to 1,120 in July, or 1.8 per cent of the district's working population. In Lichfield it fell 48 to 603, or one per cent, in Stafford it was down 21 to 885, or 1.1 per cent, and in South Staffordshire it was down by 33 to 1,007, or 1.5 per cent.

Across the Black Country boroughs of Wolverhampton, Walsall, Dudley and Sandwell, the number of people claiming Jobseeker's Allowance was 32,061 last month, down by more than 800 on June's total.

At Wolverhampton JobCentre, engagement manager Cathy Taylor said: "This is the most positive time we have seen for recruitment since 2008.

"There is quite a lot going on and we have been working with the number of employers, from supermarketsto manufacturers, logistics firms and those in the hospitality sector."

There had also been a significant fall in youth unemployment across the Black Country, she said, mirroring the drop across the UK.

In Wolverhampton the number of people claiming Jobseeker's Allowance in July was down by 184 to 9,117, or 5.7 per cent of the city's population – still more than double the average UK claimant rate of 2.4 per cent.

In Walsall the claimant count was down by 251 to 6,769, or four per cent.

In Dudley the count fell 163 to 6,964, or 3.6 per cent, while in neighbouring Wyre Forest and Kidderminster it was down by 79 to 1,216.

In Sandwell it was down by 229 to 9,211, or 4.7 per cent, while in Birmingham it fell 463 to 35,901, or 5.1 per cent.

Ninder Johal, president of the Black Country Chamber of Commerce, said: "This is very encouraging news.

"I am taking the latest statistics as a signal that at last growth is leading to more jobs."

Golf club tees off for launch of defibrillator

A GOLF club in Cannock has swung into action to get a defibrillator installed, giving critical aid to anyone suffering cardiac arrest.

Beau Desert Golf Club has been working with West Midlands Ambulance Service to ensure that staff, members and visitors have the best chance of survival.

Eighty-five per cent of people who suffer a cardiac arrest have the ability to be corrected by defibrillation.

The quicker CPR is carried out and a defibrillator is applied, not only improves the chance of their survival but it can also help to improve the chances of a patient's full recovery and reduce the time to do so. For every minute in cardiac arrest, the chance of survival decreases by 10 per cent.

WMAS community response manager Matt Heward said: "The ambulance service strongly believes that by having defibrillators installed in public places and having people trained in their use and basic first aid techniques really can help to save lives.

"These machines are extremely easy to use, meaning people of all ages and walks of life can provide emergency care to those who need it quickly and effectively prior to the arrival of an ambulance."

CRICKET was first played at Hammerwich in the 1880s, but the club has certainly come a long way since those early days.

MEMORY LANE

By Mark Shipp

The original club was wound up during 1937/38 and the two sheds used as changing rooms sold. It wasn't until after the Second World War that inroads were made into re-forming the club, by a group of men, newly demobbed, who met at the Ashmole Men's Institute.

One of them was Keith Glover, who played cricket in the RAF, and he was joined by two dozen others.

Fundraising began and a field owned by Frank Hammersley was rented on the proviso that cattle could graze there during the week. Changing rooms were initially a redundant double decker bus.

The XI got off to an inauspicious start, however, being bowled out for just three in their first match in 1950. They fared little better in the second innings, mustering just 18 when asked to bat again.

At the club's first AGM, 16 fixtures were secured and teas were often taken on the lower deck of the bus, cramped with 22 players, umpires and scorers.

Cup competitions were entered, and the club was runners-up to Kingsley Colliery in the Burntwood Memorial Knockout.

The double decker was sold to make way for the club's first wooden pavilion at the start of the 1960s. Facilities also included a new dressing room for visitors and by 1968 a Second XI was formed.

A decade later, the club welcomed its first junior team. It also purchased its ground for £9,500, with outside contributions of £5,275. Plans for a brick pavilion followed and it was officially opened in April 1987. At the start of the 1990s, a brick scorebox was unveiled.

Having gained a place in the Burton & District Premier League in 1996, the club welcomed its first overseas player, former UAE World Cup batsman Mazher Hussain. The club now houses seven teams, from First XI, ladies and juniors, playing in the Staffs Clubs and Lichfield & District leagues.

And still the improvements keep coming. An umpires' room, storeroom, extra changing facilities and pitches, including the Diamond Ground, have been added. Two old shipping containers were transported to the additional ground as changing rooms. It was opened in 2009 by Mr Glover and Eric Jarvis.

Since then, an extended and redecorated pavilion and a clock tower have followed.

Crash causes hold-ups

COMMUTERS faced delays of up to an hour getting to work when a lorry crashed through level-crossing barriers. Trains on the Rugeley to Birmingham New Street line were suspended following the collision at 8.20am last Thursday.

Two trains travelling on the line were stopped at Walsall and passengers asked to disembark. London Midland laid on alternative transport for those affected.

Network Rail engineers arrived at the scene of the crash in Bloxwich at 9am to begin repairing the damage and services were resumed at 9.10am.

Government pulls out of funding for rail line

ALMOST £200,000 is to be spent by three public authorities keeping a heavily used rail line running for another year.

It comes after government bosses delayed taking over the funding of the service.

The Chase Line which runs through Cannock, Hednesford and Rugeley is one of the fastest growing in the country and work on a £30million electrification of the service was launched this year

By Marion Brennan

As part of the deal, the Department for Transport had been due to take over the financial running of the line from Centro, Staffordshire County Council and Cannock Chase Council next March.

However the authorities have now been told there is 'no prospect' of doing so before spring 2016.

Contribute

Cannock Council leader George Adamson described the news as 'very disappointing.' He said Cannock was believed to be the only district council in the country to contribute to its rail services

He said: "It's a blow. This is money that could usefully have been spent elsewhere. But we've got to keep the service running – it's one of the most well used in the country."

Almost 700,000 journeys a year are made on the Chase Line which runs from Rugeley through Walsall to Birmingham, according to figures published by the council.

In 2012 alone an additional 91,000 passengers used the rail service, which saw increases in use of between 13 per cent and 29 per cent at Cannock, Hednesford and Rugeley Town, leading to a leap in passenger revenue of more than 70 per cent.

Currently Centro pays out £146,000, Staffordshire county Council £39,000 and Cannock Chase Council £10,000 towards the running of the service – funding that the Department for Transport was due to take on permanently next year.

South Staffordshire Council does not contribute any funding to the line.

The £30m electrification scheme will speed up trains on the Chase Line from 45-50mph to 70mph as diesel trains are replaced by electric ones across the 15-mile route.

Twenty-four railway bridges will either be rebuilt or modified as part of the work.

Benches are erected at memorial

TWO new park benches have been installed at the site of Brereton War Memorial. They were added at the spot in time for the First World War centenary service.

Cannock Chase Councillor Alan Dudson was behind the new additions. He wanted elderly people to be able to take part and watch the special service.

The Brereton & Ravenhill councillor said: "On Remembrance Sunday last year I realised there were many elderly people who were struggling with standing for the duration of the service.

"I wanted to get benches installed so they would have somewhere to sit and enjoy services in comfort."

Students' A-Level success

STUDENTS have been celebrating a bumper crop of A-Level results, although the pass rate nationally has fallen for the first time in more than 30 years.

Thousands of students discovered their fate last Thursday after months of hard work.

At Cheslyn Hay Sport and Community High School, 78 per cent of pupils achieved A* to C grades this year. In 19 subjects, every single pupil achieved a pass.

Three students – Sarah Haywood, George Morgan and Bethany Wigg – saw their hard work paying off by bagging three A*grades.

Head of Sixth Form Emily Morgan said: "We are so proud of the students this year.

"There are some outstanding performances from individuals with extremely high grades but we also have many students who have achieved way beyond their expectations. We trust that they will continue to go on to even greater success."

Headteacher Nicky Crookshank added: "The results are tremendous. The students should be extremely proud. We send our congratulations to all of them."

Staffordshire University Academy, in Hednesford, celebrated record-breaking results. All students received passes and 70 per cent of them have secured a place in further education and at universities.

Fantastic

Assistant principal Sean Andrews said: "We are incredibly proud ofour students. They have worked exceptionally hard and with the support of our fantastic teachers they have achieved great results."

At Kingsmead School in Hednesford, staff were pleased with the achievements of pupils. Among the successes were Megan Duffy, Lydia Ramah and Chloe Neal, who all gained A or A* grades.

Celebrating their A-Level results at Staffordshire University Academy, Hednesford are students Jamie Dickens, Sarah Brearley, Natalie Higgins and Adam Stevens

Hughes' new album in line for an award

CANNOCK rock star Glenn Hughes and Dudley-born drummer Jason Bonham are in the running for one of Classic Rock magazine's awards.

Their new band California Breed has been nominated for album of the year for their eponymous album.

The band will be supporting former Guns 'n' Roses guitarist Slash at the LG Arena, Birmingham, on December 1.

Jason Bonham, aged 48, is the son of late Led Zeppelin drummer John Bonham. He and singer and bass player Hughes, 61, were previously in four-piece Black Country Communion which split up in 2012 after releasing three albums.

Fans can vote for the band to win the award online at http://awards.classicrock.teamrock.com/vote/album-of-the-year

The 2014 Classic Rock Roll Of Honour awards takes place on November 4, at The Avalon in Hollywood.

Mothers are urged to breastfeed

A BREASTFEEDING support service is encouraging mothers-to-be to choose the natural option when their babies are born.

Breastfeeding, Understanding and Nurturing Support (BUNS) is a service commissioned by Staffordshire County Council and covers the Cannock and South Staffordshire areas.

Breastfeeding counsellor Gemma Irving, who co-ordinates the scheme with Emma Derry, said: "Many women have preconceived ideas about breastfeeding.

"It might be that they don't know anyone who has breastfed or their partner isn't keen on the idea. There are lots of reasons some women choose not to give it a go."

Support

BUNS run several breastfeeding support groups and drop-ins across the regions, while home visits, telephone support and social media support is also available.

The service has been putting up posters in leisure centres, libraries, children's centres and GP surgeries to encourage mothers to breastfeed.

'Exciting' plans for park revamp moving forward

DEVELOPERS will be appointed in the coming weeks as the multi-million-pound revamp of Hednesford Park moves forward.

The pavilion is being extended to two storeys featuring a community room, balcony and ground floor café.

A new skate park is also being created, as well as a new car park.

The park was awarded £2.2million from the Heritage Lottery Fund in 2012 and the money is being used to fund the works.

Cannock Chase Council has opened applications for tender for the project. Firms need to submit a detailed business case, including costs. The council is looking for firms to take on the pavilion redevelopment and a new cycling area.

New tennis courts have already been installed and other areas will be revamped up to 2017, including new and relocated play areas and outdoor gym, extensive planting and increased parking. New footpaths are also being created and the railings around the war memorial at the park will also be repaired.

The games area is being replaced with a new one, including a skate park, teen shelter and kick-about area. An additional car park will be provided.

Bowling

The children's play area will be relocated to the centre of the park with the equipment updated.

One of the three adult pitches will go, to be replaced by a junior or two mini-soccer pitches. One of the two bowling greens will also be lost.

Council leader George Adamson said: "These are exciting times and we are looking forward to work starting.

"We feel this will bring a huge boost to the area and really improve the facilities at the park."

Organist gives performance

ORGANIST Kevin Grunill will be the guest performer at Burntwood Music For All tonight (Thursday).

The musician, who hails from Barnsley, south Yorkshire, single-handedly transplanted the massive Compton organ that once rose up from beneath the stage of the Odeon Cinema in Birmingham and installed it in the Paramount Cinema in Penistone near his hometown.

Kevin has enjoyed a number of seasons playing at the North Pier in Blackpool and makes regular appearances on the mighty Wurlitzer organ of the Tower Ballroom.

He performs at Burntwood Memorial Institute Hall, Rugeley Road, from 7.30pm. His programme includes light classics, hits from both the pop and big band worlds as well as show stoppers and a tribute to the famous Blackpool star Reginald Dixon.

Tickets are £6 and available on the door. Call 01530 274270 for more details.

Magic night as speaker entertains

Burntwood WI

THE August meeting opened with a welcome to all from the club president.

A candle of Remembrance was lit for all the fallen in the First World War and there was a beautiful flower arrangement of poppies on the table done by Ron Box. Gwyneth thanked all those who attended the lighting of a candle at the new War Memorial.

Members were asked to bring along items they had relating to the First World War and there was a really good display of photos, letters, medals, and other memorabilia of family members involved in the war.

The ladies enjoyed a smashing strawberry tea and the proceeds from the raffle and bring & buy, £205, was sent to the Renal Unit at Samuel Johnson Hospital. Letters of thanks were received from Sister Helen Bishop and Adrianne Black.

The WI choir performed for the "Live at Home" luncheon at the Methodist Church. A very successful craft morning was held at Hammerwich Cricket Club with Margaret Copland teaching origami.

The Belarus Appeal for baby clothes and blankets resulted in Anne and David Simpson taking a car load to headquarters in Evesham. They were greatly received – thanks to all who donated.

Magician Paul Watts invited some members to help with his tricks and had everyone puzzled as to how he did it. He was thanked by Ann Bate. Joan Marson won the competition.

President's lowdown on decade of change

Cannock Soroptimists

President Janis Lomas with new member Val Burdon

AT their July business meeting President Janis Lomas was delighted to welcome new member Val Burdon as a member of SI Cannock & District.

Val has already been involved with the club in some of the work they do to support Pathway and Women's Aid and the BIG – Birthing in the Gambia – project. She got in touch after reading articles about the club in the local paper. This is Cannock Soroptimists' Diamond year and Janis is telling club members about famous women during the last 60 years.

At the last meeting she concentrated on the 1970s, the decade of 'firsts' – the first meeting of Women's Liberation; the first female jockey to win a horse race; women in Switzerland were given the vote and the first women's refuge was set up by Erin Pizzey.

In 1975 Margaret Thatcher became the first woman to lead a political party in the UK and four years later the first woman Prime Minister.

Women finally got the right to equal pay – it truly was a decade of change.

Inspired by demonstration

Norton Canes Flower Club

AT the meeting in July there was a demonstration by Ann Gater entitled 'Seasonal Inspirations'. This was a most enjoyable evening with lovely flower arrangements from Ann using wonderful flowers with a super variety of colours. Everyone learned from Ann in a most entertaining way and members really appreciated her talents.

There is no meeting in August, though some members are going to visit the Dorothy Clive Garden Centre. At the next meeting on September 17, the club is looking forward to another demonstration when Kay Higgins will be presenting 'Around the World in 80 Minutes'.

Meetings are held at the Trinity Methodist Chapel Poplar Street Norton Canes on the third Wednesday of the month at 7.30pm. Call Jose on 01543 278370.

8.00 Grand Designs. Kevin McCloud follows the progress of Brighton couple Daren Howarth and Adi Nortje, who want to build an earth-sheltered home from recycled materials, based on ideas pioneered in New Mexico in the 1970s. However, land prices and planning laws have forced the pair out of England and into Brittany. To keep costs down, Daren and Adi enlist the help of unskilled volunteers to work on the house, in exchange for teaching them the construction techniques. (R)

9.00 Film: Red Lights. (2012) Premiere. A famous blind psychic returns to the public arena 30 years after his career ended in scandal and a suspicious death. A paranormal investigator ignores his mentor's warnings and tries to expose the spiritualist as a fraud, a task that sets him on a dangerous path. Thriller, starring Cillian Murphy, Sigourney Weaver and Robert De Niro.

The Mill
(Channel 4, 8pm)
When the strikers form a line outside the gates, William enlists a band of men to break the stand-off, joined by John's special constables. A violent confrontation follows and Daniel is arrested - but calls for the workers to keep fighting. While Esther is attending the union meeting in Manchester in his place, Susannah looks after baby Billy, who has become critically ill. Elsewhere, more information comes to light about Peter's background, but before he can learn the truth, Hannah's sickness takes a turn for the worse. Starring Kerrie Hayes, Lauren McQueen, Connor Dempsey, Mark Frost, Joshua Isherwood, Ewan Phillips, Katherine Rose Morley, Justin Salinger, Barbara Marten, Holly Kenny, Sope Dirisu and Matthew McNulty.

7.00 Nature's Miracle Orphans. Part one of two. Presenters Ellie Harrison and Max Hug Williams follow orphaned baby animals as they make steps to return to the wild. Ellie travels to Australia to meet three koalas called Tilly, Puddles and Danny, who were rescued from the roadside where their mother had been killed – Danny needs around-the-clock care and is building up his strength with night-time games of chase. She also meets a tiny wallaby called Neil whose carer Stella is worried may die from stress if they can't find him a companion. Elsewhere, wildlife cameraman Max is in Costa Rica where he gets acquainted with Newbie, a five-month-old three-toed sloth, who has suffered from pneumonia since she was rescued. He follows wildlife manager Sam at Kids Saving The Rainforest as she tries to teach the baby sloth to climb trees and learn to go back to the wild.

7.00 How Britain Worked. Engineering enthusiast Guy Martin celebrates the workers of the Industrial Revolution by recreating some of the 19th century's most impressive technical achievements. Along the way he focuses on the unsung heroes of the time – the men, women and children who worked 14 hours a day for little pay to create extraordinary marvels that changed the country for ever. He begins by overhauling a steam locomotive currently in use on the Severn Valley Railway, repairing its boiler, safety valves and one of its two-ton wheels. He also lays some track using the same methods as the notorious "navvies" – the notorious, hard-living labourers who put together Britain's entire railway infrastructure by hand. (R)

8.00 The Mill. As tensions escalate during the strike, a violent confrontation leads to Daniel's arrest. Susanna looks after Esther's baby, who has become critically ill. Last in the series.

9.00 Film: The Cold Light of Day. (2012) Premiere. A man on a sailing holiday in Spain discovers his family have been abducted. His search for them leads him to learn that his father has been leading a double-life as a CIA agent, and has stolen top-secret information – which the kidnappers will stop at nothing to obtain. Thriller, starring Henry Cavill, Bruce Willis and Sigourney Weaver.

MONDAY

The Sorcerer's Apprentice, BBC1, 1.30pm

A wizard living secretly in modern-day New York vows to prevent his mystical enemy from taking over the city. Realising that he is unable to complete the task alone, he recruits an ordinary teenager to be his assistant, teaching him to master the magical arts. Fantasy adventure, starring Nicolas Cage, Jay Baruchel and Alfred Molina. (2010)

TUESDAY

Seventeen and Missing, Channel 5, 3.15pm

A mother with clairvoyant abilities is distraught when her teenage daughter goes missing. She finds herself plagued by traumatic visions of the girl's abduction, which might provide the vital clue to rescuing her, and turns to her estranged husband for help in tracking down their child. Thriller, starring Dedee Pfeiffer, Matthew Harrison and Tegan Moss. (2006)

WEDNESDAY

Our Children, Channel 4, 1.10am

A woman marries a Moroccan immigrant and together they move into the home of his adoptive father. She is left feeling increasingly isolated living a household in which they have become trapped, driving her to contemplate killing her five children. Fact-based drama, starring Emilie Dequenne, Tahar Rahim and Niels Arestrup. In French and Arabic. (2012)

The Invention of Lying, Friday, ITV, 10.40pm

THURSDAY

The Hunted, BBC1, 11.35pm

A traumatised special forces soldier regresses to a feral existence in an isolated area of woodland. Increasingly unhinged, he starts to pick off anyone who strays into his path, prompting the mentor who trained him in hand-to-hand armed combat to track him down before the authorities take drastic action. Action thriller, with Tommy Lee Jones, Benicio Del Toro, Connie Nielsen and Mark Pelegrino. (2003)

FRIDAY

The Invention of Lying, ITV, 10.40pm

In a world where everyone always tells the truth, a failed documentary writer learns how to lie. Since no one else knows what deception is, his most ludicrous inventions are taken at face value, making him a huge success - and ultimately leading to him starting his own religion. Comedy, starring Ricky Gervais and Jennifer Garner. (2009)

PICK OF THE WEEK

Series continues to prove a novel success

A year ago, Channel 5 brought us one of the most enjoyably bonkers fantasy sagas of the year. Based on the novel by Stephen King, Under the Dome was one of those glorious 'What if?'-style dramas popularised in The Twilight Zone.

In this case, the 'what if?' being: a hemispherical force field. It appeared out of nowhere and trapped the residents of small American town Chester's Mill. Once comparisons with The Simpsons Movie faded, UDT became must-see viewing for viewers who don't take their fantasy TV too seriously.

It didn't just raise questions such as 'What created the dome', or 'Was it impassable?', but 'Would rain pass through the force field?' and 'What happened when the food and resources ran out?'

It didn't hurt that there was eye candy for both sexes, from hunky, shady ex-soldier Barbie (Mike Vogel) to flame-haired investigative reporter Julia Shumway (Rachel LeFevre).

And as every good drama needs a larger-than-life villain, Breaking Bad veteran Dean Norris proved perfect as politician/used car dealer 'Big Jim' Rennie.

Okay, some Stephen King purists may have argued that it's not as good as the 2009 source novel, but given the fact most King-inspired TV strands have been a let down, it proved more compelling than most.

Series one of Under the Dome was bursting with memorable moments, from a cow sliced in half when the hemisphere first appeared, to the man whose pacemaker exploded in his chest. It was the show where anything could, and probably would happen.

Admittedly it wasn't perfect, but it kept many fans coming back for more week after week, and series two looks like it could be equally compelling. It picks up directly from where the first series left off.

Chester's Mill is now bathed in a blinding white light as the Dome starts to change. It becomes opaque, and starts emitting a regular electromagnetic pulse.

Pink stars have fallen in lines as a result of Julia throwing the egg into the lake, and Barbie is awaiting execution on the scaffold after Big Jim accused him of murder.

Of course the ongoing success of this series has meant Mike Vogel's own star is definitely on the rise.

"What I love about this show, it's very real characters reacting to a very unreal event," he explains. Mike is no stranger to working in Blighty, having made a film with Jamie Murray called The Deaths of Ian Stone. If UDT's schedule allows, he'd love to return to the UK for a new project. "I love England and I love English actors," he explains. "There is a richness and a tradition in the craft that you get with English actors that I don't see a lot with my American counterparts. It's always refreshing to me."

New 'Dome' cast additions should help make this second run equally refreshing.

Look out for former ER star Sherry Stringfield as Big Jim's 'late' wife Pauline, while country music superstar Dwight Yoakam plays the delightfully named town barber, Lyle Chumley.

Mike Vogel stars in Under the Dome, Monday, Channel 5, 10pm

BEST OF THE REST

MONDAY

Scotland Decides: Salmond versus Darling
BBC2, 8.30pm

As the people of Scotland prepare to vote in next month's referendum on whether to break away from the rest of the UK, Glenn Campbell chairs the second debate between First Minister Alex Salmond and Better Together leader Alistair Darling. The SNP leader and the former chancellor of the exchequer will lay out their competing visions for the future of Scotland in front of a specially invited audience at Kelvingrove Art Gallery and Museum in Glasgow.

Gadget Man
Channel 4, 8.30pm

New series. Richard Ayoade returns with the show exploring the world of technology, from the everyday to the extraordinary. In the first edition, he takes on the worst of the British climate, braving a hurricane in a wind tunnel with the help of Tim Vine to assess the best in gust-busting gadgetry. He's also joined by Marcus Brigstocke at the Hemel Hempstead Snow Centre to pressure-test cold-weather technology.

TUESDAY

Super Senses: The Secret Power of Animals
BBC2, 9pm

Biologist Patrick Aryee and physicist Helen Czerski continue their exploration of the world of animal senses by investigating sound - from the deepest rumbles to the highest squeaks - using specialised technology to detect noises beyond the range of human hearing. They reveal how alligators use low-pitch sounds to make the water around them 'dance', show what it is like to be a bat and see with echo-location, and convert a classic camper van into a giant speaker to conduct the ultimate hearing test for a herd of elephants.

WEDNESDAY

Addicts' Symphony
Channel 4, 11pm

Okay, so you'd never have thought the words 'addict' and 'classical music' go well together in the same sentence, but composer and musician James McConnel is about to enlighten us as to why they do. You see, he's examining music's many transformative uses by bringing together 10 classical musicians who have all been affected by addiction – and they will be performing alongside the London Symphony Orchestra. Every musician is trying to break free of addiction – some have been sober for years, while others only a few months – and James, a recovering alcoholic himself, wants to prove just how big a part music can play in an addict's recovery.

Who Do You Think You Are? Thursday, BBC1, 9pm

THURSDAY

Who Do You Think You Are?
BBC1, 9pm

Irish comedian Brendan O'Carroll, best known as his alter ego Mrs Brown and star of the BBC sitcom Mrs Brown's Boys, tries to find out the truth about his grandfather's murder, and attempts to uncover the identities of the men responsible.

Shopkeeper Peter O'Carroll was killed in October 1920 at the height of the Irish War of Independence, and the Dublin-born actor begins his journey of discovery with only a newspaper article from the time and the words 'shot during the curfew' from Peter's gravestone.

FRIDAY

Micky Flanagan: Back in the Game
Channel 4, 9pm

Cockney comic Mickey Flanagan came to his stand-up career relatively late in life. After working variously as a porter at Billingsgate Fish Market, a dishwasher, a window cleaner and a furniture maker, he tried his hand at comedy aged 35. It didn't take him too long to find his feet, and now he's one of the scene's biggest names. In fact, last year's Back in the Game tour was the biggest comedy event of 2013, playing to more than half a million people across the UK and Ireland. The show featured his best material to date, and for anyone who's only ever seen him on the myriad panel shows that seemed to help launch his televisual career, this is a must-see.

Big School
BBC1, 9.30pm

New series. Return of the classroom comedy, starring David Walliams. When Miss Postern sets up a careers workshop, it seems her slogan 'Which Way Now?' applies as much to her as it does to the pupils, not least because the guest speaker is her old teacher-training colleague - and now best-selling children's author - Fenella Forbes (played by Morgana Robinson). Meanwhile, her relationship with Mr Church has taken a downward turn after a misunderstanding over a date. On the upside, the future is looking bright for one member of staff, as Mr Martin prepares to launch a pop career. With Catherine Tate, Daniel Rigby and Philip Glenister.

GPs turn attentions to dealing with flu virus

AS the summer months draw to a close, doctors across Cannock Chase are starting to turn their attentions to keeping you well during winter.

This inevitably leads to a focus on the flu virus and what they can do to protect their more vulnerable patients.

At best the flu is a nasty disease that can make the healthiest of people unwell for a number of days. At worse it can lead to complications such as pneumonia and bronchitis and can even be fatal.

Flu symptoms can hit quite suddenly and can be very severe. They usually include fever, chills, headaches and aching muscles. You can also get a cough and a sore throat.

Because flu is caused by a virus and not bacteria, antibiotics will not treat it. However the flu vaccine will help to prevent you getting the virus in the first place.

Myths

The vaccine is completely safe and has been used for many years. However, there is still some confusion around who is eligible for the vaccine and here we try to tackle some of the misunderstanding and the myths that have developed over the years.

Anyone can get flu, but it can be more serious for certain people, such as people aged 65 or over, people with a serious medical condition or pregnant women.

If you are in one of these groups you are more vulnerable to the effects of flu (even if you are generally fit and healthy) and could develop flu complications. These are the more serious illnesses such as bronchitis and pneumonia and could result in hospitalisation. Flu can also make existing medical conditions worse. So, should you have the flu jab?

UPDATE FROM THE CCG

DR Johnny McMahon is chairman of Cannock Chase CCG. He has 24 years of clinical experience, including 14 years as a partner in a large teaching practice in Northamptonshire, where he became a board member involved in the establishment of Nene Commissioning.

He became a partner at the Colliery Practice, Cannock in October 2010 and joined Newhall Street Surgery in February 2014. Since 2012, he has sat on the Cannock board, becoming chairman in April 2013.

If you are 65 years old or over you should have the flu vaccine. You should also have the vaccine if you are pregnant or have any of the following problems, regardless of your age:

- A serious heart complaint
- A chest complaint or breathing difficulties, including asthma, bronchitis and emphysema
- Serious kidney disease
- Diabetes
- Lowered immunity due to disease or treatment such as steroid medication or cancer treatment
- If you have had a stroke or transient ischaemic attack (TIA)
- If you have a problem with your spleen or have had your spleen removed
- If you are a nominated carer for someone
- Your GP may also advise you to have a flu jab if you have serious liver disease, multiple sclerosis or some other diseases of the nervous system

Children aged two, three and four by September 1 are also eligible for the flu vaccine as well as at risk pupils from the Fluenze Pilot for school years 7 and 8, who do not meet the inclusion criteria (for instance those that have an egg allergy).

ALL of the practices within the Cannock Chase area will be allowing patients to either drop in on a designated day or to pre-book for their flu jab from September.

Contact your GP practice to get further details about how you can get yours.

NEW - Electronic Security Identification System for Small Hand and Power Tools

The loss of power tools is inconvenient for a DIY enthusiast but for a professional tradesman it could cost thousands in delays and lost business. And with power tools easy to transport and dispose of, thieves are targeting them ever more frequently.

Your insurance policy may help to pay for replacements but won't compensate for the amount of time spent sourcing them nor for the stress associated with being burgled. By the time you've dealt with the insurance company and the Police and then sourced replacements a week or more may have passed. All that time the job has been delayed or you've had to turn down work.

However there is a way to protect yourself and your tools - Datatag.

Datatag ID Ltd, the country's leading security marking experts and the company behind the CESAR (Agricultural Plant and Machinery) and MASTER (Motorcycle) official marking schemes. Both industries, since adopting Datatag technologies, have seen dramatic reductions in theft with the majority of companies in those fields now fitting Datatag as standard to all new machinery.

The good news for your power tools is that Datatag have recently launched a system for the power tool market containing the same technologies. Each Powertool System contains a new and unique ultra-destruct warning label and a bottle of Datadots® containing 1000's of identifying dots.

The specially designed warning label, impossible to remove once applied, contains a unique identification number and QR code which proves ownership. Being highly visible it's a strong deterrent to thieves as they know the effectiveness of Datatag in proving ownership. In fact when used as evidence in court Datatag have never lost a case! The Datadots® each have the same ID number and are held in a UV trace adhesive. These 'dots' applied to almost every part of the tool, leave thousands of identifying marks, easy for Police to identify and practically impossible for thieves to completely remove.

James Woodward, Sales Team Leader at Buxtons of Penkridge said, "Customer feedback has been very good, not only with DIYers but also professional users as many have been victims of crime in the past."

Ben Coates, NFU Affinities and Services Manager said, "Rural crime, in particular machinery and tool theft, is a real problem for Members. To help we established a strategic partnership with Datatag offering a low-cost high-impact solution to help tackle rural crime." He went on "We chose Datatag as market leaders in asset identification and because of their work with CESAR. We wholeheartedly encourage all users to fit Datatag as standard. Only in this way can we hope to replicate the success of the CESAR scheme."

Datatag is fast getting a reputation as a 'Don't Touch' system amongst criminals - they know that Datatagged property is simply too hot to handle. Once they see yours is protected they'll usually go looking for an easier target.

Stylish Sym on the money

Currently one of the UK's most popular commuter bikes the stylish Sym XS125-K looks set to cement Sym's position in a market sector where its reputation for reliability is particularly strong.

This latest model offers improvements in technology, running costs and styling.

It fulfils the role of providing simple, cost-effective transport, and it concentrates on getting its rider from A to B without leaving a gaping hole in their finances or stirring up undue drama en route.

The £1,571 required to get your riding gloves on the bike will continue to secure plenty of sales on its own. The 124cc engine brings excellent fuel economy and a generous tank gives ample range which means a lot of journeys to work and back. The Sym XS125-K's top speed is just up to the cut and thrust of motorway traffic but it will be more at home in the urban environment, where the punchy performance of the engine and a smooth CVT gearbox make it the ideal commuting partner.

Of course, corners had to be cut to bring the XS125-K in at such a low price and equipment levels are basic, but there's everything you really need.

The focus of the Sym XS125-K is quite rightly on minimising costs and it is reassuringly cheap both the buy and run. However, with its attractive design, the Sym XS125-K doesn't remind you of them too often. It's a great way of getting about and looking good on a budget.

Fiat 500 is freshened and is still cutest car

By James Parker

With a more powerful TwinAir engine, an upscale trim level slotted in and an interior with a smart digital instrument display, the Fiat 500 has evolved. One thing hasn't changed – it's still the cutest city car money can buy.

Fiat has taken the opportunity to refresh the 500. Wisely the company has left the styling largely unchanged and has instead concentrated on updating the technology, making the car yet more efficient and giving the customer more choice when it comes to engines and trims.

The headliner is the fact that Fiat has introduced a 105PS version of the popular twin-cylinder 875cc TwinAir engine. This engine uses the same technology pioneered on the Italian brand's MultiAir units, replacing the camshafts of a four-valves-per-cylinder unit with electro-hydraulic control of the inlet valves, allowing the engine to breathe more efficiently.

As before, there's an 85PS TwinAir offered that gets to 62mph in 11 seconds, but the 105PS car is usefully quicker. Combined with a six-speed manual gearbox as standard, it develops 145Nm of torque at 2,000rpm in Sport mode, gets to 62mph in 10 seconds and on to a top speed of 117mph. You'll also find rear disc brakes fitted, as opposed to the drums on the lower-powered car.

Aside from the two TwinAir engines, 500 customers can also choose from a rather breathless 69PS 1.2-litre petrol and an altogether more satisfying 95PS 1.3 MultiJet II Turbo Diesel.

Both TwinAir engines are also offered with the Dualogic gearbox. Two driving modes are offered – Standard and Eco. In Eco, torque is restricted and the steering lightens up, which makes low-speed manoeuvring even easier. Press the Sport button in the 105PS TwinAir model and the 'eco' display transforms into a turbo-boost gauge. It's a very slick touch.

The interior of the 500 offers a beautifully pared-back look and feel but this time round there's a genuine piece of modernity in the dial pack. A seven-inch TFT digital instrument display replicates the retro aesthetic of the analogue dials, with speedometer, rev counter and trip computer all easily read.

Image

The centre of the display – which contains a digital image of the car – can be configured to show various trip computer readouts, such as distance travelled, instant fuel consumption and range.

The screen can also display media player and telephone readings and, when fitted with a TomTom 2 LIVE satnav system, navigation information also appears in the display, including junction graphics and real-time traffic updates.

The build quality feels decent with surprisingly sturdy controls.

Any doubts about the mechanical integrity of the complex TwinAir engineering should be laid to rest by the fact that it uses a similar technology to Honda's impeccably reliable VTEC system, insofar as it uses engine oil as hydraulic fluid in a rugged and elegant solution that's not overly expensive to build.

Retro green and three-layer white paint finishes are now offered and the S model is available with a striking blue. Revised alloy wheel designs, seat fabrics and leather upholsteries complete the updates.

Proportion

As before, pricing sits mainly in the £10,000 to £14,000 bracket for the hard top version, but Fiat has found a huge proportion of buyers wanting to pay figures towards the top of that range – and beyond. Hence, a greater range of options for customers who aren't particularly price-sensitive when it comes to their 500.

The Cult trim represents the top of the 500 hierachy which starts with 'Pop' and rises through 'Colour Therapy' and 'Lounge' to '500S'.

Most go for the Lounge models which are still equipped with features like 15in alloy wheels, a fixed glass sunroof, Blue&Me connectivity, a leather steering wheel with remote controls and air conditioning.

If you want the Convertible 500C model, there's a £3,000 price premium to pay.

As with all 500 models, a high level of safety equipment comes as standard, including anti-lock brakes with electronic brakeforce distribution, seven airbags (including a driver's side knee bag), ISOFIX attachments and daytime running lights. ESP stability control with anti slip regulation and Hill Holder is also available.

To be honest, Fiat hasn't needed to do a whole lot to retain the 500's popularity. It still looks great, it's always been fun to drive and as long as the pricing doesn't get too ambitious, the market remains there for it.

Supermini is a bargain buy

The MG3 was designed with the intention of being fun to drive, the chassis having been subjected to many thousands of miles of testing on European roads.

The first cars offered to journalists to drive in China were rather harshly sprung but MG promised to fit springs and dampers that offered a more supple feel for UK roads.

The engine is a 1.5-litre 106PS four-cylinder unit that naturally drives the front wheels. There's nothing revolutionary about the suspension which is fairly standard set-up with MacPherson struts up front and a torsion beam at the rear. You also get a drive-by-wire braking system and an electrically-assisted power steering set-up.

The exterior styling looks quite smart, if maybe a little supermini-generic in a way that could have been produced from one of many manufacturers in this sector if you covered the badges over. Still, because the MG3 looks to undercut many of the established names, this rather blended styling is perhaps to its credit.

It continues the design theme introduced on the MG Zero concept vehicle and the company claims it's "a distinctive statement of modern British style designed to target young and style-conscious buyers". Make of that what you will.

The interior will come as a welcome relief to anybody who's a bit baffled by the complexity and deep technology of many modern superminis. Climb out of a Peugeot 208, with its self-parking system and tablet computer-style central infotainment system and, without being unduly blunt, it's very different. Still, the MG3 is tidy inside with seats that look and feel very Volkswagen.

There are a few white touches around the stereo, on the steering wheel, the door pulls, handbrake and gear lever but aside from that, everything is uniformly grey. Sit in the back seats and you'll find the front seats are sculpted to improve leg room, while the rear headroom is genuinely impressive.

Prices start at under £8,500, getting you this supermini-sized car for less than the kind of money you'd pay for a little citycar. All models get signature front LED lights and a hill holder clutch as standard, with all but the entry model featuring a high quality DAB audio system.

What's not to like in great value fast hatch

By James Parker

Ford's Fiesta ST has long been the thinking person's fast hatchback. This latest one is no exception.

With 182PS on tap, it keeps things real and the pricing looks great as well. Ford has certainly put down a serious marker. The plushest ST3 version adds sat nav, keyless entry, cruise control, auto headlamps and wipers, power folding mirrors and electronic climate control that many owners will want.

So-called 'warm hatches' have often been a tricky sell. Why? Because there's usually a faster version that's more desirable. Warm hatches are usually bought by younger drivers who want the faster car but can't afford the insurance bills. There is an exception. Ford's Fiesta would appear to be the perfect candidate for a searing hot hatch, but in recent years, instead of a fire-breathing RS model, the pinnacle of Fiesta sporting ambition has been the ST line. But the 'Sports Technologies' variant has usually been a great car in its own right.

Now we've got another Fiesta ST to compare with earlier standard setters. Instead of the 150PS it had in previous generation form, it gets a heftier 182PS. Does this lift it into a more serious price category? Not a bit of it. Ford has kept the pricing keen, so much so that we suspect that some manufacturers of this Fiesta's opposition are starting to feel more than a little worried.

The top ST3 version we're going to look at here costs an extra £1,000, but still manages to look good value against many obvious rivals.

Ford has developed new chassis and suspension components to improve the ride quality and refinement of the car and further enhanced the Ford Electronic Power Assisted Steering system.

Unique suspension and steering tuning and better Torque Vectoring Control (eTVC) combines with a 15mm lower ride height to deliver the requisite dynamic improvements over what is already a very good chassis.

Ostentatious

Ford produce the Fiesta ST in both three and five door guises, but there are no plans to import the five-door car to the UK. But when the three-door model looks this good, I doubt too many tears will be shed. The big front grille (which can look a bit ostentatious on an ordinary poverty-spec Fiesta supermini) works well with the ST's more extrovert body styling. That runs to an imposing black honeycomb trapezoidal front grille, plus a large rear spoiler with twin air vents and twin exhaust.

Colour choices including Molten Orange and Spirit Blue and an optional style pack adds red brake calipers and grey alloy wheels to pump up the aggression a bit.

The rising beltline of the Fiesta in profile doesn't seem to bode well for the rear seat passengers in this three-door car but the Fiesta surprises with decent legroom and headroom that's manageable even for a six-footer. The windows are small and set high up, so light isn't abundant in the back but the shopping bags, coats and road atlases that owners will store there most of the time won't be overly worried.

Standard spec for all Fiesta STs runs to 17in alloy wheels, a body styling kit with a chromed dual exhaust pipe, a Quickclear heated windscreen, front fog lights, a Thatcham Category 1 alarm, a leather-trimmed ST steering wheel and gearshift knob with red stitching plus a decent quality stereo system incorporating a DAB digital radio. There's also Ford's clever Bluetooth/USB SYNC connectivity and the 'My Key' system via which you can tailor the systems of the car to your own settings communicated to it via the ignition key.

The whole point of sporty Fiestas has been to offer a generous slice of fun coupled with modest running costs. It was always thus with the old XR2 and it continues with this generation ST. Even with 182PS on tap, you'll still see 47.9mpg on the combined cycle with emissions pegged at a very reasonable 138g/km. That compares well with cars like the 208 GTI, which manages 139g/km and the Fabia vRS at 148g/km.

It's hard to see how Ford could have done a lot better with the Fiesta ST. Warm hatches are usually a difficult thing to position as there will always be that nagging feeling that if you just saved a little more, you could be in something more exciting, but the ST has long stood up very well as a model in its own right.

With 182PS on tap translating into a sprint to 62mph of just 6.9 seconds, this Fiesta is quicker than many of the proper hot hatches of not so very long ago. It'll most certainly out-handle some fairly illustrious names as well.

An integral part of bringing a warm hatch to market is managing costs and it's here that the Ford really plays its trump card. It gets 47.9mpg on the combined fuel economy cycle and emissions are rated at just 138g/km - but the biggest draw is certain to be the price tag.

At just £17,000, the base model is very tempting and even in the £19,000 ST3 guise we've looked at here, it still strongly pays the value card.

Great mix of economy, style and performance

By Matt Joy

There's something going on under the bonnet of a new range of Audis which benefits both the environment and drivers – particularly business users.

The company's huge range of models has been joined by 'Ultra' versions of the A4, A5 and A6, using an update of its 2.0-litre turbo diesel engine, already one of the most powerful in its class with up to 190Ps on tap in the case of the A6.

The net result is a saving of hundreds of pounds on fuel, the tax disc and 'benefit in kind' tax without sacrificing performance: indeed, the new Ultra range actually has more oomph than its predecessors.

I drove the Ultra-powered version of the £30,850 A5 Coupe, a sleek executive express with the potential to go from a standstill to 62mph in a rapid 8.3 seconds.

Yet it is also capable of beating many small hatchbacks in terms of economy, with average fuel consumption of more than 67mpg and a CO2 emissions rating of just 109g/km.

This means, compared to its predecessor, the tax band falls from C to B and a 16 per cent drop in the business driver's tax bill – nearly £250 as well as savings at the pumps. The figures are identical for the new Ultra-powered range of A4 saloons.

Saving money and developing your green credentials normally means a trade-off with performance and driving pleasure, but in this case the opposite is true.

The 2.0-litre turbo diesel under the bonnet is a completely new development, designed for even more efficiency and leaner burning. It also has a new 'selective catalytic reduction' system which removes nitrogen oxides from the exhaust gases, ensuring the cars meet EU6 standards, the most stringent ever applied to European cars.

Same

But the driver also has the same maximum engine power of 163Ps under his right foot but at lower revs (1,200rpm lower, at 3,000rpm in fact), and maximum torque is increased to 400Nm and over a wider spread, from just 1,750rpm.

If the figures don't mean much, you will notice the difference long before you pull up at the pumps.

It means in normal driving the car whispers along at very low rpm, saving fuel and reducing noise levels, but a little more pressure from the right foot will send it surging forward smoothly without the need to stir the six-speed manual gearbox.

All the Ultra models come as standard with lowered, sports suspension which not only reduces drag (therefore aiding economy), it also means even sharper handling. The standard alloys are reduced to 17in as a result, equipped with 225/50 low-profile tyres.

It turns into bends positively and accurately and grips well, and based on a test drive on a variety of rural roads, it has little impact on ride quality.

The Ultra models currently come as manual, front-wheel drive only, with no four-wheel drive Quattro versions.

The A5 is only available at present in SE trim, which comes with the sort of kit you'd expect from an upmarket coupe. Driver and front passenger have executive levels of space, but the sleek coupe shape does mean a small sacrifice in room for those in the rear compared to the A4 saloon.

Mom

One year, August 20, 2014.

No more tomorrows for us to share but yesterdays memories will always be there.

You are always in our thoughts.

God bless.

Kev and Carole.

August 21, 2014

One hundred today.

A much loved Mom, Nan and Great-Nan. This special day we cannot share, but in our hearts you are always there.

Happy birthday Mom.

Love, Maureen and Family.

acknowledgements

Sincere Thanks

ALCOTT
Betty

The Family would like to thank Sellmans for a professional and compassionate Service, Reverend Jayne for a lovely Service, Whitehouse Caterers, Burn Street Club.

Thanks to Mom's Friends and long term Neighbours of Mom's street for the collection and all other donations received which will be going to The Widows Club which Mom attended for many years and her social event she loved.

Thank you all. X X

NEWMAN
Rex

The Family would like to thank all Relatives and Friends for attending the Funeral of Rex.

Thanks for all condolences and donations to Katharine House Hospice, raising £1,000. Special thanks to the Staff at Katharine House Hospice and also Faragher Maguire Funeral Directors.

WHITEHOUSE
Frank

The Family would like to thank Relatives and Friends for their kind words of sympathy during this sad time, and for their generous donations which have been sent to New Cross Prostate Cancer Fund.

The total raised was £370.

Thank you from Edith, Carol, Glenys and Debbie.

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer:
1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with it's Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree.
Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

Staffordshire County Council

ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 TRAFFIC MANAGEMENT ACT 2004

THE STAFFORDSHIRE COUNTY COUNCIL (CANNOCK CHASE) (CIVIL ENFORCEMENT OF PARKING) (PROHIBITION AND RESTRICTION OF WAITING AND LOADING AND PARKING PLACES) (CONVERSION) ORDER 2009 (AMENDMENT) NO. 20/20XX

1. Staffordshire County Council propose to make a Traffic Order under Sections 1, 2, 4, 32, 35, 45, 46, 47, 49, 53, 124 (1)(d) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, and the Traffic Management Act 2004 which will:

(a) prevent you from parking your vehicle for more than 1 hour, with no return within 1 hour, on Monday to Saturday inclusive between the hours of 8am and 6pm on the following lengths of:

A460 Horse Fair, Rugeley – (southbound carriageway) west side starting from a point approximately 50 metres south of The Globe Island (junction of A460 Western Springs Road, B5013 Elmore Lane and A460 Sandy Lane) in a southerly direction for a distance of approximately 28 metres.

A460 Horse Fair, Rugeley – (southbound carriageway) east side starting from a point approximately 52 metres north of the centreline of St. Paul's Road in a northerly direction for a distance of approximately 51 metres.

A460 Horse Fair, Rugeley – (northbound carriageway) east side from a point approximately 68 metres north of the centreline of St. Paul's Road in a northerly direction for a distance of approximately 27 metres.

A460 Horse Fair, Rugeley – (southbound carriageway) west side starting from a point approximately 58 metres south of the centreline of St. Paul's Road in a southerly direction for a distance of approximately 27 metres.

(b) prevent you from waiting at any time on:

A513 Armitage Road, Rugeley (Both Sides) - from the junction with A460 Horse Fair and A460 Brereton Road in an easterly direction for a distance of approximately 35 metres.

A460 Brereton Road, Rugeley – from a point approximately 44 metres north of the centreline of Wharf Road, west side of the carriageway in a southerly direction for a distance of approximately 62 metres.

Wharf Road, Rugeley – from the junction with A460 Brereton Road, both sides of the carriageway in a westerly direction for a distance of approximately 16 metres.

2. Exceptions will permit waiting for the purposes of taking up and setting down passengers; loading or unloading goods; for vehicles displaying a Disabled Person's Badge; and where necessary in connection with the maintenance of roads and the supply of gas, electricity, telephones, sewerage services and water and in the service of the Environment Agency; for emergency service vehicles; for vehicles being used for the provision of a universal postal service by a universal service provider; for buses waiting at an authorised bus stop; for vehicles being used for floods defence works or land drainage works; and for so long as is reasonably necessary in connection with any wedding or funeral.

3. This Order will amend the Staffordshire County Council (Cannock Chase) (Civil Enforcement of Parking) (Prohibition and Restriction of Waiting and Loading and Parking Places) (Conversion) Order 2009.

4. This Order will be called the Staffordshire County Council (Cannock Chase) (Civil Enforcement of Parking) (Prohibition and Restriction of Waiting and Loading and Parking Places) (Conversion) Order 2009 (Amendment) No. 20/20xx.

5. This Order will amend the Plans marked BU 210, BU 211 and BV 211 incorporating waiting restrictions on those roads specified in Article No. 1 above and which form part of the Staffordshire County Council (Cannock Chase) (Civil Enforcement of Parking) (Prohibition and Restriction of Waiting and Loading and Parking Places) (Conversion) Order 2009 and in substitution thereof.

6. Full details of these proposals are in the draft Order which, together with maps showing the roads involved and a statement of the County Council's reasons for proposing to make the Order, may be examined during normal office hours at the office of the Deputy Chief Executive & Director for Place; and during normal opening hours at Rugeley Library, Anson Street, Rugeley, Staffordshire or via the internet at www.staffordshire.gov.uk/trafficregulationorders.

7. IF YOU WISH TO OBJECT TO THE PROPOSED ORDER YOU SHOULD SEND THE GROUNDS OF YOUR OBJECTION IN WRITING TO THE DEPUTY CHIEF EXECUTIVE & DIRECTOR FOR PLACE, HIGHWAYS, 1 STAFFORDSHIRE PLACE, TIPPING STREET, STAFFORD, ST16 2LP NOT LATER THAN 11 SEPTEMBER 2014 QUOTING REFERENCE HOCPS/TM/TR22/14.

John Tradewell, Director of Law and Democracy and Transformation, 2 Staffordshire Place, Tipping Street, Stafford, ST16 2LP.

Date 21 August 2014

Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 (As Amended)
Road Traffic (Temporary Restrictions) Act 1991
A34 WALSALL ROAD, GREAT WYRLEY
DIVERSION OF VEHICULAR TRAFFIC

NOTICE is hereby given that the Staffordshire County Council intend, not less than seven days from the date of this Notice, to make an Order the effect of which will be to prohibit any vehicle from proceeding in that length of A34 Walsall Road, Great Wyrley so much as passes over and is in the immediate vicinity of the Railway Bridge for a distance of approximately 20 metres either side unless the vehicle is being used in connection with the works; or unless the vehicle requires access to premises on the length of road or is being used for police, fire brigade or ambulance purposes. Pedestrian access will be maintained.

The preferred alternative route for traffic will be available via A460 Eastern Way, A5190 Lichfield Road, A4601 Church Street, A34 Mill Street, A34 Walsall Road and vice versa.

THE ORDER WILL COME INTO OPERATION ON 08 SEPTEMBER 2014, AND THE SAID WORKS WILL COMMENCE ON OR AS NEAR AS PRACTICABLE TO THAT DATE. IT IS ANTICIPATED THAT THE WORKS, WHICH WILL TAKE PLACE NIGHTLY BETWEEN THE HOURS OF 8PM AND 8AM, WILL BE COMPLETED BY 15 SEPTEMBER 2014.

The Order will remain in force for a period of 18 months or until the rail bridge repair works works, which it is proposed to carry out on or near the road, have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

HAVE YOU CHECKED your advertisement today? We would respectfully remind advertisers that it is their responsibility to inform the publishers of any mistakes or inaccuracies on the first day of publication.

ADVERTISEMENTS
CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE

1. Midland News Association Limited All publications in this group are published by the Midland News Association Limited, registered office Queen Street, Wolverhampton WV1 1ES ('the Company') and this is the address to which any notices should be sent.
2. Acceptance The Company will only accept advertising on these standard terms and no other contract terms or conditions will apply other than those which are implied by statute and cannot lawfully be excluded. In particular the Company will not accept advertising on the basis of advertiser's terms and conditions.
3. Content of Advertisements All advertisements must be legal decent honest and truthful. Advertisements must comply with the British Code of Advertising Practice and all other codes under the general supervision of the Advertising Standards Authority. Advertisements must comply with the requirements of all current legislation including but not limited to the following:- All advertisements must clearly differentiate between trade and private advertising as required by the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must comply with the Consumer Credit (Advertisement) Regulations 1980.
All descriptions of goods must be accurate and in no way infringe the provisions of the Trades Descriptions Act 1968.
Advertisements must not contain any material which is defamatory. You must have permission to use any material contained in your advertisement and must not infringe the copyright moral rights or any other right of any third party.
The Company reserves the right to refuse to carry any advertisement or to require amendment of any advertisement in its absolute discretion.
4. Appearance of Advertisements Whilst the Company makes every effort to comply with requests, publication on a particular date or in a particular position cannot be guaranteed. The Company reserves the right to alter, suspend, cancel or reject an advertisement at its discretion even after the same has been accepted for publication without being liable to compensate you. You will not be charged for any advertisement which does not appear. If only a part of a series of advertisements appears you will only be charged for the advertisements in the series which actually appear. The Company does not guarantee the publication or extent of supporting editorial and your obligation to pay for advertising will not under any circumstances be dependent upon the appearance or content of editorial. No liability will be accepted for non-appearance of editorial. The Company does not guarantee that advertising will not appear for similar or the same subject matter to your advertisement and no liability shall be accepted as a result of such advertising appearing. It is the advertiser's responsibility to provide any amended copy, whether by electronic or other format, and the Company does not guarantee that it will be able to or will agree to modify, amend or alter any file or copy supplied to it.
5. Liability The Company's liability for any loss or damage caused by any error or omission in the advertisement or any other breach of contract shall not in any circumstances exceed a full refund of any price paid by the advertiser to the Company for the publication of the advertisement or the cost of a further or corrective advertisement of the same type as that which originally appeared. Where a series of advertisements is booked the Company's liability shall not in any circumstances exceed the value of the first advertisement in the series. In the event of any error, misprint or omission in the publication of the advertisement the Company will either re-publish the advertisement or the relevant parts of the advertisement or make a reasonable refund of or adjustment to the cost of the advertisement. If the error does not materially detract from the advertisement then no re-publication, refund or adjustment will be made. It is the advertiser's responsibility to check the content of advertisements and the Company will not accept any liability for loss or damage, or obligation to republish or make a refund or adjustment, arising from re-publication of an advertisement containing an error, misprint or omission which has not been identified by the advertiser after first publication.
6. Box numbers The Company accepts no liability for loss or damage caused by delay in forwarding or omission to forward to the advertiser replies to Box Numbers. Box Numbers must not be used for sending goods, distributing circulars or communications from agents. The Company reserves the right to open and inspect all replies to Box Number and to destroy goods, circulars of communications from agents which are discovered during an inspection.
7. Inspection The Company shall be entitled at any time to inspect any goods or services advertised and may decline to carry further advertising if such inspection is not permitted or if in the Company's opinion the provision of further advertising facilities is not appropriate in view of the nature or quality of the goods or services.
8. Indemnity The advertiser, including any advertising agency involved in placing any advertisement, warrants that it has permission to use for publication by electronic and printed means all material which is included in the advertisement. The advertiser and any advertising agency involved in placing any advertisement agree to indemnity the Company in respect of all charges, costs, claims or damage arising out of the publication of the advertisement, whether the same result from actual or threatened legal action or from some other cause.
9. Cancellation On a request for cancellation or amendment of a classified advertisement being accepted, you will be given a cancellation or amendment number which must be quoted in all subsequent correspondence. Payment of the originally agreed price will be required in full for any advertisement in relation to which the advertiser is unable to supply a valid cancellation or amendment number. Cancellation can only be accepted if the Company is notified of the cancellation by no later than the following deadlines:-
Lineage, Semi Display - By no later than 6.30pm on the working day prior to publication. Advertisements to appear on Monday must be cancelled by 10 am on the preceding Saturday
Classified Display - By no later than 24 hours before the date of publication
Colour/Features - By no later than 10 clear days before the date of publication
To cancel Lineage, Semi Display and Classified Display advertisements please telephone 01902 317878. To cancel Colour/Features advertisements please speak to the Representative through whom the advertisement was booked.
10. Rates Advertising rates are as laid out in the Company's current rate card which is available on request from the Company's offices. The rates may be varied from time to time in the Company's absolute discretion and without prior notification of the intended variation. The revised rate will be charged for any advertising ordered after the date of variation.
All gross advertising rates except classified lineage and semi-display are subject to a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance levy payable by advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.
11. Payment The Company reserves the right to require pre-payment as a condition of any advertisement being published. Where pre-payment is not required unless different credit terms have been agreed with the advertiser in writing payment must be made within 14 days of the date of issue of the Company's invoice. An additional £2.00 booking charge will be payable if the invoice is not paid in full within this 14 day period.
Any additional credit facilities which are offered are at the Company's absolute discretion. The advertiser's liability shall be for the full amount of all advertising ordered and shall not be limited to the amount of any credit limit which the Company may impose.
Payment may be made by [method] cash, cheque or credit/debit card. The advertiser's obligation to pay for other items on an account shall not be affected by the existence of any query over an individual item within that account.
12. Data Protection Act The advertiser's details will be retained by the Company for the purposes of administering our accounts records and so that the Company may notify the advertiser of future advertising opportunities which may be of interest to you. By placing advertising with the Company the advertiser agrees to your details being used for this purpose.
13. Applicable Law These conditions of acceptance shall be governed by and interpreted in accordance with the law of England and Wales.

Brace of pre-season wins for the men

Hockey

CANNOCK Men's Hockey first team have started their preparations for the new league season with a couple of friendly fixtures.

Last week they took on newly-promoted conference side Barford Tigers. Despite Cannock having several squad members missing they ran out comfortable 3-0 winners.

This week saw them travel to Manchester to take on old rivals Brooklands MU.

Brooklands have been promoted to the NOW Pensions National League Premier and so will be meeting Cannock in the league during the season. They are also the team Cannock beat in the final of the NOW Pensions EH Cup at the end of last season.

Again Cannock had several players unavailable and some new squad members were having their first run out.

New coach John Bell has taken the opportunity to try out a variety of tactics and to see players in action.

Cannock had the majority of possession in the first part of the game and opened the scoring with a fierce reverse shot from the top of the D by Harry Jawanda.

Despite continued possession a couple of defensive errors gifted Brooklands with two goals to take the lead.

Returning Cannock stalwart Tom Morris levelled the score before Chris Darnley deflected a Pete Jackson free hit in a carbon copy of Morris's goal to put the Chase Park side ahead.

Then Cannock unleashed Aaron Wilkes who drove a shot passed the Brooklands keeper to make it 4-2 in Cannock's favour. Brooklands responded with a penalty corner that sneaked passed Scottish International keeper Dave Forrester.

Cannock pushed again with Martin Ebbage forcing his way down the flank, onto the by-line to Cross for Chris Darnley to slot home his second.

Cannock started to dominate, with another goal coming from Wilkes, who was left with only the keeper to beat.

New boy Ben Stoney made it seven with a reverse strike that crashed the backboards. Brooklands edged a final consolation goal but Cannock had, by then, done the damage and chalked up a 7-5 victory.

Wood win sets up tie with Rangers

Walsall Wood 1
Heath Hayes 0

A stunning last-ditch goal from substitute Dave Carns saw Wood progress in the FA Cup to a home tie with Stafford Rangers.

Wood were first to threaten when, after two minutes, Tom Evans raced clear wide on the right, his low cross put behind by Tom Baggott to deny Joey Butlin. A rare visitors' attack on 34 minutes saw Joe Geldart make space on the right, his low cross cut out by Wood skipper Lee Stretton to frustrate the ever-dangerous David Waple.

Wood went close to opening the scoring on 39 minutes; a neat ball in from wide left by Craig Deakin was flicked on by Butlin for Corey Currithers to hit a first-time effort swinging wide.

Back came Hayes through Geldart; he collected a ball out wide left and cut into the box only to be stopped by a superb saving tackle by Stretton.

Nearly full-time and in the 90th minute a corner was cleared to Carns 25 yards out.

He took the ball on his chest before firing an unstoppable rising drive into the left-hand top corner that even Burns couldn't keep out.

Dorgan's strike is killer for Lockmen

Dudley Sports 0
Willenhall 1

A Matt Dorgan wonder strike won an absorbing West Midlands Premier game for Willenhall at Dudley Sports.

Michael Clark, Andre Calder, Joe Noel and Ryan Ward all had efforts in the first 20 minutes without threatening a goal.

As the half wore on Sports took control of play but failed to threaten a goal, the closest either side came was Willenhall's Jack Pottinger's overhead kick which rattled the home team's crossbar, while Tony Clift fired over in a breakaway for the visitors, but Sports were the more threatened when keeper Ben Holden denied Jonathan Letford with a fine save on 62 minutes.

The winner came a minute later and what a score it was.

Tom Turner's knock down bounced perfectly for Dorgan and he absolutely hammered his strike, flying over Dominic Richards' head and in from almost 30 yards.

Turner then fired wide a minute later and Pottinger and Ward also went close but generally it was stout defending that kept out the home side and a couple of excellent blocks from keeper Newton.

Oak gets cut down to size in league opener

Cannock Chase Football League
Premier League

CHAMPIONS Ridware Oak were brought crashing back down to earth with an opening day defeat.

Hawkins Sports ran out 3-1 winner thanks to a double from Ryan Bradshaw and one from Stuart Bott. Man of the match went to Mark Hall.

Last seasons runners up Brereton Lion, came from a goal down against Belt Road to run out 5-1 winners. Gary Dunn, Matty Ainger, Beckham Foulton goals followed by Man of the Match Reece Bakers two goals puts the Lion sitting pretty at the top of the league.

Huntington F.C beat Brereton Town 2-0 with a goal in each half from debutants Ricky Gittings and Luke Farmer. Ronnie Roberts earned Man of the Match.

Football

Division One

All three league games produced all away wins. Chase Spartans beat Nelson Inn 3-2. Jack Langtree and a double from Tom Cunningham, his second goal, the winner with just minutes to go. Right back Kylie Richardson was awarded Man of the Match.

Bar Sports beat Lea Hall 3-1. Neil Hudson and a penalty from Jordan Harvey before a late winner from substitute Brad Grice in an all round outstanding team performance. An opening day hat-trick from Ryan Coney bagged all three points for his team Wheatsheaf. Player secretary James Bradley though played on with a broken big toe but the Man of the Match went to Chris Sedgley.

Division Two

Division Four Champions Hen House kicked off their new season in Division Two with a thumping 4-0 win over new team Bell & Bottle. Man of the Match went to Mark Simms and Ant Piercy. Hawkins InEx beat Miners Rest 2-1. Man of the Match was Richard Jackson.

Cheslyn Hay thrashed the Slade 7-1. Glen Reading scored a hat-trick. Nick Pilditch got man of the match. Bridgtown Social handed out a 3-0 beating of Brinsford. The Traff and AFC Social played out a 1-1 draw. King George Casuals walloped Winding Wheel 8-3. Man of the Match was Ashley Thames.

Division Three

White Lion clawed the Romping Cat to pieces 9-2. Man of the Match was Richard Tapper.Glassworks beat AFC Castle 3-0. Nick Pascal got Man of the Match. AFC Piper fought back from a goal down to AFC Essington to win 3-1. Jock Corns earned Man of the Match.

AFC Greenheath beat Movecorp 6-3.

Handy team mates carry pride of nation

Harriet Richards, left, and Kate Lawton who have just returned from Denmark after representing Great Britain at handball

Harriet Richards and Kate Lawton, both aged 18, are back from Viborg in Denmark after proudly representing Great Britain at handball in the international Generaton Handball tournament.

Generation handball was held for the first time in Viborg from July 29 to August 2. It is a new international handball tournament which involved more than 3,000 participants from all over the world.

Harriet and Kate were first introduced to handball at Cardinal Griffin high school. Since then both girls have played for Cannock Olympia handball club and Manchester Hawks in the national super seven league.

They also represented England at the Partille Cup tournament in Sweden. Harriet also played for Great Britain at the European qualifiers in Romania in 2013.

Lawton said: "Playing for GB and representing my country was one of the proudest moments of my life, I gained a great amount of experience and confidence which I hope to carry with me into a future playing handball."

Richards added: "I had an amazing time in Denmark."

Wolves doc is taking on Premier role

WOLVES club doctor Matt Perry is to become the Premier League's first medical advisor.

Dr Perry will retire from general practice in Albrighton, where he has worked for 28 years, to take up the newly-created part-time role.

Dr Perry, who will also continue at Molineux, will provide advice and support to the Premier League in relation to all medical issues.

He said: "This new position is an exciting challenge which I am really looking forward to.

"This role is about co-ordinating and ensuring there is a joined up approach throughout the League, and a strategy to develop on important issues"

Khalsa get a brace of victories

Sporting Khalsa 3
Dudley Sports 0

KHALSA make it two wins out of two in the West Midlands Regional League Premier.

Khalsa took charge of the game early on and in the eighth minute Khalsa took the lead through debut Matt Martin who side footed the ball into the net from a square ball from Chris Henry in the box.

Chris Henry eventually increased Khalsa's lead after 36 minutes with a simple tap-in when he pounced on a poor clearance from the visitor's defender.

The game opened after the interval.

Ten minutes from time Daniel Lloyd scored from a rebound.

Cunningham aiming for the title

THE Chase for the British Masters Bronze super middleweight title will end in the ring between Stafford's Grant Cunningham and Telford's Kieron Gray, writes Craig Birch.

They will duel for the belt when professional boxing returns to Cannock at the Chase Leisure Centre on Saturday October 4.

It's the first title chance for Cunningham, the undefeated 30-year-old from Moss Pit competing in his 10th professional contest.

It breathes into life a dormant period for 'Maximus,' who only returned to action in July after 14 months out through work commitments. He didn't drop a session in outpointing Welshman Jamie Ambler at Walsall Town Hall for a tune-up but he has been six rounds twice, with Bronze title fights contested over eight.

Gray is more than accustomed to the distance having held the belt before, stunning Jake Dyer with a points win by three rounds in February.

'Slammer' has also competed in losing efforts for the same title and for the International Masters Bronze crown down at middleweight.

The 36-year-old's experience in the prize ring is not to be taken lightly, particularly after holding Jamie Ball to a draw after the full 10 rounds for the Midlands light middleweight strap in 2010.

His latest opportunity is set to be his 40th paid bout, as skill faces will as "prospect" Cunningham goes toe-to-toe with "warrior" Gray.

Promoter Errol Johnson said: "We are really pleased to be putting on a show in Cannock. It's been a while since professional boxing has taken place in the area and we are going to give them a show to remember.

"We have got a great top of the bill encounter. Grant is a good prospect and Kieron is a real warrior so it will be a good fight.

"We have got a solid undercard, too, so I'm looking forward to it."

It's a family affair on the under-card as cousins Josh and Kieran McLaren both feature, the latter making his professional debut.

One goal enough to crack Potters

Stoke 0 Aston Villa 1

ANDREAS Weimann's second-half strike proved the difference as Aston Villa won 1-0 at Stoke to open their account for the season.

Weimann rifled a shot in off Asmir Begovic in the 50th minute to steer the visitors to three points few might have predicted them collecting prior to kick-off.

Villa had not won away from home since January 1 and their six league games on the road previous to this had all ended in defeat in a poor conclusion to 2013/14.

Stoke, on the other hand, had finished the campaign strongly, and lost only three times in the league at the Britannia Stadium over the whole season.

However, it was Villa who made the winning start to 2014/15 with a result that could have been even more emphatic had Gabriel Agbonlahor and Leandro Bacuna not squandered opportunities either side of the goal.

There were three summer signings making their competitive debuts in each starting line-up – forward Bojan Krkic, striker Mame Biram Diouf and full-back Phil Bardsley being the trio for Stoke.

New faces but the old habits for Saddlers

Walsall 0 Bradford City 0

DESPITE several new faces, the goalless draw against Bradford City bore many of the hallmarks familiar to last season. Walsall dominated possession but could not find the goal to seal all three points.

Only with seconds remaining was either 'keeper seriously tested when Adam Chambers drew a fine save from Bantams custodian Jordan Pickford.

Yet while Dean Smith and his players might have been saddled with a familiar feeling of frustration, there were enough promising signs to suggest this result may not set the tone for what is to come. For one thing, it was something of a surprise to see Bradford, with victories in their opening two games, adopt such a negative game-plan.

Phil Parkinson's side didn't exactly park the bus but it was impossible to escape the conclusion they had come for, and were happy with, the draw. While the Saddlers failed to solve the riddle posed by the visitors' massed defence, it is also important to remember this is still a relatively new forward line, still learning each other's game.

Luckie strike grabs the win for Scholars

Chasetown 2 Gresley FC 1

CHASETOWN kicked off 2014-15 with a narrow victory to notch the first three points of the campaign.

The club paid their respects to former long-serving manager Mervyn Rowe who had died in July – and a minute's silence was held to commemorate the life of the man who won four trophies in twelve seasons at The Scholars.

Also paying tribute were a dozen members of the Rowe family including wife Pauline among the crowd as guests of the club.

A tentative first half seemed to be played as if neither side wanted to lose their opening day game and it was the visitors who probably had the best chances to make their mark during the early stages of the game.

Kieran O'Connell put pressure on Tesfa Robinson who conceded possession and O'Connell fed Rob Ritchie-Smith who was narrowly wide of John Bateman's right-hand post which saw the deadlock continue.

Bateman then made the first and only real save of the first half, rushing out to block Eric Graves after O'Connell had again turned provider but couldn't convert to bring the first score.

Chasetown took the lead just short of the hour mark when a long free-kick pumped forward saw Gresley keeper Tom Turner advance to try and punch clear but was beaten to it by Nick Wellecomme who flicked a deft header over the keeper to mark his 100th Chasetown appearance with his 41st goal for the club.

Football

Nathan Waite was close to adding a debut goal to increase Chasetown's lead when neat interplay saw the No.10 with a chance but he fired across Turner but wide of the post.

The Derbyshire side levelled when Bateman failed to gather a long throw-in and Graves got to the loose ball first and teed up former Scholar Alex Steadman, who had only been on the field ten minutes, and prodded home from close range.

Three minutes from time, Chasetown regained the lead.

Simon Brown sent a free-kick forward into the penalty area, Turner misjudged it completely and the ball trickled towards the goal, ricocheted off Gresley defender John Guy and the upright straight to Jazz Luckie who netted from close range just four minutes after coming onto the field.

Perhaps an opening day draw would have been the fairest result on the balance of play but Luckie's late strike was just what the majority of the 206 crowd wanted as an apt send off to former manager Rowe.

Villa's joy over coup on Santos

PAUL LAMBERT has hailed the signing of Colombia World Cup star Carlos Sanchez as a "great coup" for Villa.

The 28-year-old defensive midfielder signed a four-year deal after completing a move from Spanish side Elche in a deal believed to be worth £4.7m.

He has 48 caps for his national side including four in Brazil as Colombia reached the quarter-finals.

"Carlos is a very experienced professional who played a prominent role in a Colombian team which captured everyone's imagination," said Lambert. "He's a great coup for Villa.

"He does the simple things really well."

Saido has learned a few things

ALBION striker Saido Berahino claims he has learned lessons from last season's off-field scrapes after kicking off the new campaign with a double strike against Sunderland.

The 21-year-old admits he is a "better person" for his mistakes last term.

Berahino was involved in a dressing-room bust-up with team-mate James Morrison after the 3-3 home draw with Cardiff in March and was then reprimanded after a video of him inhaling nitrous oxidewas leaked to a newspaper.

"I have learned a lot," said Berahino.

"It's made me a better player and a better person off the field. I am more aware of stuff that goes on."

Dean cries foul over Yeovil's winner

The Glovers claimed a 2-1 victory at the Banks's Stadium when former Crewe hitman Leitch-Smith appeared to turn in Kevin Dawson's shot on the line 17 minutes from time.

Smith felt the striker had used his hand to deflect the shot, though Yeovil boss Gary Johnson claimed the ball was already over the line and officially the goal was awarded to Dawson.

But Smith said: "If somebody punches it in, there is not much you can do about it.

"It was frustrating. We should have been three goals to the good in the first half but we didn't take our chances.

"Then we started the second half OK but lost our way after they scored the second, which their lad has punched in on the line."

Ashley Grimes and Romaine Sawyers were both guilty of bad misses as the Saddlers failed to take their chances in the first half.

James Hayter then headed the Glovers in front 10 minutes into the second period and though Tom Bradshaw levelled for the Saddlers, Dawsonrestored the visitors' advantage.

Edmunds is lone Ranger

Stafford RGS 1
Norton UTD 0

STAFFORD made it two wins out two thanks to substitute Ryan Edmunds, who came on in the second half and bagged the winner.

Edmunds replaced Levi Reid on 54 minutes, the midfielder having suffered a hamstring injury. He applied the finishing header from an Alex Curtis cross.

Rangers just edged the game on the evidence of their second-half showing in what was always a lively game between two neighbours who had both enjoyed opening-day wins.

Captain Daniel Cope almost grabbed a second goal for Rangers just two minutes after Edmunds struck, when he cut in but saw his shot saved by Ryan Boot.

Ex-Scholar Smith provides the heartbreak

Romulus 1 Chasetown 0

FORMER Scholar Lee Smith broke the hearts of his ex-team mates with a late strike.

Smith was wide on the Roms left and drove a 25-yard effort in off the Chasetown post which goalkeeper John Bateman could only stand and watch as the ball looped beyond him.

It was a typical game of two halves. Romulus created next-to-nothing in the first half, giving the ball away cheaply and allowing Chasetown the lion's share of the possession and the better chances.

Football

Nick Wellecomme and Nathan Waite combined early on and Paul Evans kept out Waite's header as the visitors put the home side under pressure.

Then, Roms left back Cameron Lee let the ball slip under his foot and Waite reacted quickest to fire a low shot to Evans' right and he got down low and tipped the ball around the post.

Before then, Chasetown had all the better chances and twice home keeper Paul Evans denied Nathan Waite, firstly with a low save round the post and secondly punching away in front of his body.

Romulus were stronger after the break, denying Chasetown from really getting a shot on target.

Their best chance came when substitute Jermaine Johnson chested the ball down in the path of Simon Brown and Evans pushed aside for a corner.

The home side forced John Bateman to tip over his crossbar, when James Reid's dipping shot looked to have broken the deadlock.

Smith's winner, seven minutes from time, inflicted Chasetown's first ever defeat on Sutton's 3G pitch.

As Chasetown pushed forward for an equaliser, the Roms broke quickly and James Reid had a golden opportunity to make it 2-0 but Bateman spread his body to block the attempt.

Chasetown: Bateman, T Evans, Ravenhill, Slater, Robinson, L Downes, Butler, Parsons (Johnson, 81 mins), Wellecomme, Waite (Luckie, 73 mins), Danny J Edwards (Brown, 64 mins)

Subs: George, Pond (not used)

DAN'S THE MAN FOR FREE KICKS

Hednesford Town 3 Harrogate Town 2

TWO superbly struck free kicks from Hednesford Town's Danny Glover helped The Pitmen get off the mark in the league .

Sandwiched in between there was a stunning strike from Jamey Osborne as well as a fightback from the visitors, making it an entertaining afternoon for all those inside Keys Park.

The home side were really dominating the opening exchanges and had a couple of quick fire chances in the space of a few seconds in the 14th minute as first Paul McCone saw his shot saved by Phil Barnes before Walker's header was pushed away to safety.

Hednesford were in once again in the 20th minute as the lively Alex Melbourne got down the right and after getting to the byline his pull-back found Walker who saw his fierce shot blocked away.

Careful

Despite all their chances The Pitmen still had to be careful at the other end and goalkeeper Dan Crane kept them in it following a smart save from James Walshaw's downward header in the 27th minute.

Just when it looked as if the sides would go in level at the break, Jamey Osborne broke forward and won a free kick 25 yards out.

Up stepped Glover to curl home the dead ball via the underside of the crossbar and goalkeeper Barnes to give his side the lead.

Football

After starting the second half in lively fashion the home side were almost undone twice in a matter of minutes.

First a free kick whipped into the box was poked wide by Shane Killock from ten yards out before a combination of Crane and McCone denied Walshaw what seemed like a certain goal in the 64th minute.

Good interplay in midfield saw Jamey Osborne surge forward and he struck a beautifully driven effort into the bottom corner of the net.

Within five minutes the visitors were back in it as Walshaw turned his marker on the edge of the box and fired home past Crane .

In the 80th minute they drew level when, after Crane palmed out a free kick, Dominic Rowe was on hand to stab home.

The home side could well have caved in following this fightback but Hednesford wouldn't be outdone as just three minutes later they retook the lead. Glover curled home another great free kick into the top corner of the net.

Pitmen's Danny Glover whose two goals from free kicks helped give Hednesford the victory

Saddlers will score – Clifford

BILLY CLIFFORD says Walsall win find the goals to go with their "fantastic" football.

The Saddlers failed to score in Saturday's League One home opener with Bradford City as they were held to a 0-0 draw.

But ahead of tonight's clash with Bradford City at the Banks's, midfielder Clifford has expressed his confidence that it is just a matter of time before the goals start to flow.

"At times, our football was fantastic," said the former Chelsea man. One and two touches, playing it wide, getting crosses into the box, we just need that finishing touch.

"We work on that in training and hopefully we will get the goals. It will come.

"We just lacked that end product on Saturday and we will work on it during the week."

Clifford admits to being pleasantly surprised at the quality of the Saddlers play, having joined on the eve of the season after negotiating his release from Stamford Bridge. The 21-year-old is determined to feature as much as possible after being handed his first start.

Refs group gets national award

WOLVERHAMPTON Referees' Association have been handed a top national award.

They are just the 11th Association in the country – out of 256 – to achieve the Bronze Award and the first in the West Midlands.

It is for the Association's work with the referees of Wolverhampton.
